MANY MORE ILL

Bedford, Va., Nov. 12. (INS.)—The death toll from Monday's cider party at the Elks national home here mounted to ten today when James K. Collins, of New York City succumbed to the arsenic-tainted cider.

Physicians who are in attendance at the home said this afternoon that one of the men who drank the poisoned cider are definitely out of danger.

Bedford, Va., Nov. 12. (INS.)—Physicians were hopeful today that additional deaths would occur among residents of the Elks national home here as a result of Monday's cider party, which has already cost the lives of nine members of the B. P. E. W. H. Hutchinson of Corry, Pa., died last night, bringing the death toll to nine.

Nearly a score of other members of the home are still seriously ill, but are expected to recover. The men were poisoned from drinking sweet cider out of a barrel which had previously contained a solution of arsenic used in spraying trees.

Mrs. J. Willis Martin Is Elected Leader Of The a. Republican Council

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 12. (INS.)—The selection of a president, the Pennsylvania State Council of Republican Women ended its convention harmoniously here today when Gertrude MacKinney, Butler, Pa., was elected president.

The complete organization ticket it had been agreed upon last night is as follows:
Honorary president: Mrs. Barclay Warburton, Philadelphia.
President: Mrs. J. Willis Martin, Philadelphia.

Vice president: Mrs. Mary Flynn, Lawrence, Pittsburgh.
Recording secretary: Mrs. Stella Z. Good, Robesonia.
Corresponding secretary: Mrs. Wm. W. Groben, Philadelphia.
Treasurer: Mrs. Worthington Sention, Scranton, Pa.

Honorary vice presidents: Mrs. Geo. Wharton Pepper, Philadelphia; Mrs. David A. Reed, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Hanna A. Durham, Allentown.

Directors: Mrs. Charles P. Chick, Uniontown; Mrs. Bessie Dobson, Allentown; Mrs. Eastman, Philadelphia; Mrs. D. Cobb Marion, Harrisburg; Dr. W. Mc. Laureton; Mrs. Charles E. MINERS WILL SEEK TO CURTAIL USE OF ELECTRIC POWER

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 12. (INS.)—Foremost among the Legislation to be sought by the five Pennsylvania districts of the United Mine Workers of America, meeting here jointly this morning, will be a bill to curtail the use of electricity in the mines. Its wide use is regarded as a "needless and dangerous" hazard of coal mining.

The Legislative program for the coming session is being considered by representatives from Districts 1, 2, 5, 7 and 9, of the mine workers union and includes in addition to the electric curtailment clause, several is-fare-and-safety of those employed in mines of vital importance to the well-being of the nation.

"The greatest use of electricity in place of steam has made it necessary to call a halt somewhere," said Thomas J. Kennedy, President of District 7, in declaring the electrical hazard as the most important subject to be dealt with at this time and suggesting Legislative remedies.

"We should not wait for some great calamity before getting after this danger and we feel that a new law must be drafted to prevent further development of the hazard," Mr. Kennedy added.

Bailey Held Winner By 14 Votes In Recount Over Anderson H. Walters

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 11.—After a session that opened last Thursday and continued until 10:30 tonight, during which a score of ballot boxes were opened and numerous corrections in the unofficial counts were made, the computation board for Cambria county tonight decided Warren Worth Bailey, Democrat, elected to Congress from the Twentieth district by a plurality of 14 votes over Anderson H. Walters, Republican.

Walters was leading by two votes until the last box was opened, when South Fork Second Ward No. 2 gave Bailey 16 more votes than had been returned by the election board of the district and landed Bailey a winner.

WOMEN HOPE TO SEE "MA" FERGUSON AND "OUR NELL" ROSS RIDE HORSES IN THE NEXT INAUGURAL PROCESSION

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON—With an eye to the future, when they hope to see a woman riding down Pennsylvania avenue at the head of an inaugural parade, members of the National Woman's Party and the National League of Women Voters are hoping "Ma" Ferguson of Texas and "Our Nell" Ross of Wyoming will come to Washington to participate in the Coolidge inauguration on March 4.

Although both are Democrats, as visiting chief executives of sovereign states they would be accorded places in the inaugural parade.

And as the first women ever to be elected to such high office it is felt that their participation in the ceremonies would place the whole status of women as possible future contenders for the presidency in a new and more favorable light.

THE journalistic classic of the campaign came the day after the election.

It disclosed once and for all the real reason behind the Coolidge landslide.

And it revealed as the prize picker of presidents, by his own confession, none other than Colonel George Brinton Harvey, ex-Democratic ex-ambassador to Great Britain.

The Washington newspaper which Harvey now edits took no less than nine columns of type to tell how George, when calamity befell the party of his adoption, and the Democratic-Progressive assault seemed certain to sweep Coolidge from power, plunged his pen into the ink and saved the day with his battletory of "Coolidge or Chaos."

ENGLAND READY TO ATTEND ANOTHER DISARMAMENT MEET

First Conference Cut
Down Competition In
Heavy Cruisers, Light
Cruisers Now Favored.

TORIES FAVORABLE

By GEORGE E. HOLMES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
Washington, Nov. 12.—President Coolidge is only awaiting a favorable opportunity to take the initiative in calling another world arms conference—if, indeed, "feelings" in that direction have not already been put out by this government. It was ascertained today in Administration quarters.

The primary purpose of such a conference would be to accomplish what the Washington conference left undone; to wit, limit the production of aircraft for war purposes, limit the size and equipment of land forces and codify international law.

By DAVIS M. CHURCH
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
London, Nov. 12.—England was eagerly waiting today for an American invitation to another disarmament conference.

There is little doubt that such a move by President Coolidge would be welcomed by the Tory government as a ready escape from the proposed Geneva protocol.

Political circles were inclined to interpret the speech of Sir Auckland Geddes yesterday, as Great Britain's surrender to the United States of leadership in world humanitarian movements. It is apparent that Premier Stanley Baldwin is desirous of closest co-operation with the United States.

The Tories, on whose heavy victory Baldwin was swept back into the premiership, are inclined to oppose the Geneva pact. The Daily Telegraph publishes today an article by Lieut. Col. Reppington, who has just returned from a tour of Europe, stating his belief that the Geneva agreement is premature, that it would cause disintegration and constitute a "real danger to peace."

W. B. M. Pringle, defeated as Liberal candidate for parliament, declared there was the greatest need for another disarmament conference and added:

"The Washington conference stopped competition in dreadnaughts because of their doubtful efficacy. Now there's competition in light cruisers." The admiralty denies that competition has sprung up in construction of this class of fighting craft.

PROMINENT METHODIST PASTOR DIES

Washington, Pa., Nov. 12. (INS.)—Rev. Calvin Henry Miller, pastor of the Jefferson Ave. Methodist Episcopal church here died at his home early today from a stroke suffered last night while preaching at the First Methodist Church at Cannonsburg.

Rev. Miller was 66 years old. He was prominent in the Pittsburgh conference and had held pastorates at Pittsburgh, Wilkinsburg, Boston, Pa., and South Brownsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hayes, of Curwensville and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Anderson of Grampian motored to the Cook forest on Sunday and took dinner at the inn. After viewing the sights there they drove on to Clarion where they took supper before returning home. All enjoyed the day to the fullest extent.

PONZI MAY ESCAPE PUNISHMENT OWING TO JURY DISAGREEMENT

Boston, Nov. 12. (INS.)—After deliberating 11 hours the jury that has heard the larceny charges against Charles Ponzi in Superior Court early today reported a disagreement. Ponzi fought his own case. Judge Bishop in his charge to the jury stressed the fact that the jury must find Ponzi misappropriated funds with intent to steal.

Howard B. Hartswick Is Now A Member Of Law Firm Of Arnold and Platt

The well known law firm of Miller and Hartswick, having been dissolved by the death of its senior member, W. Clark Miller, Mr. Howard B. Hartswick who has been a member of the firm for several years, today announces that he has entered the law firm of Arnold & Platt. The new firm will be known as Hartswick, Arnold & Platt.

Mr. Hartswick brings to the new firm a great many years of legal experience and a clientele of no mean proportions. Dating back to the law firm of Bell & Hartswick, prior to Judge Bell's elevation to the bench, through the years of Cole and Hartswick and finally Miller and Hartswick, the subject of this sketch has been in close touch with a goodly proportion of the legal business of Clearfield county during the last three decades.

For the present Mr. Hartswick may be found at either the Miller and Hartswick office in the County National Bank building or at the office of Arnold and Platt in the Keystone building.

After December 1st, John C. Arnold will devote all his time to the law business of the firm, he having resigned from the District Attorney's office. Mr. Platt is a brother-in-law of Mr. Arnold, a graduate of Montana University, in which state he practiced for a couple of years prior to coming here two years ago. A son of Rev. Dr. D. A. Platt of DuBois, he is no stranger to the community and since locating here has built up a fine practice.

Last June the firm of Arnold and Platt entered into a ten-year lease for a suite of four rooms in the new Progress Building on Locust street. These are now being made ready for occupancy and will be ready early in December, at which time the new firm of Hartswick, Arnold and Platt will occupy them.

Philipsburg Legion Men Put On Big Celebration Of Armistice Signing

The celebration of Armistice Day at Philipsburg yesterday under the auspices and direction of John Ashely Dennis, Jr., Post of the American Legion, was a huge and complete success in every way and the Post members and Philipsburg people generally have every reason to feel proud of their effort and the manner in which the people of this section of the State responded to the invitation to visit Philipsburg and participate in this celebration.

The celebration opened with a memorial service at the Rowland Theatre, at which one of the speakers was J. Mitchell Chase, of Clearfield, State Commander of the American Legion.

The main feature of the day was the parade of ex-service men and Philipsburg's civic organizations, which took place at 2 o'clock. It was a very creditable affair. The place of honor at the head of the line was given to John Lewis Shade Post of the American Legion and Clearfield's famous American Legion "Band." Clearfield had more than one hundred and fifty men in line and made a fine showing.

Following the parade the football game between the teams representing the Philipsburg and Clearfield High Schools was played at Scott Field before the largest crowd ever assembled on that field. The game ended Clearfield, 7; Philipsburg, 3; but the winners covered themselves with more dust than glory as the burgers played rings around our hopes. Clearfield was lucky at the start, scoring a touch down shortly after the game started and got the extra point on a Philipsburg penalty. It was indeed well that this was so, as these "burgers" took the bit in their teeth and punched holes in our line almost at will, the local's seeming unable to hold them until their goal line was almost reached. Then a desperate stand would result in Clearfield securing the ball, whereupon Wilson would kick the pigskin out of reach for the time being only to have it relentlessly brought back well into the danger zone right away again by Philipsburg's battering ram attack. Philipsburg's three points were gained on a pretty field goal.

The big program ended with a box

AMERICA'S BUILDING BILL FOR 1924 IS EXPECTED TO EXCEED FOUR BILLIONS; ALMOST TWO BILLIONS OF IT IN HOMES

By ROBERT S. THORNBERG
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The American building bill for 1924 is expected to exceed the enormous sum of $4,500,000,000, and the construction of homes accounts for about 40 per cent of that total, according to figures made public today by the Federal Reserve Board and the Department of Commerce.

It has been a boom year in the building industry.

There still is a national housing problem, but the situation is the best it has been since the War, officials said.

Complete statistics for 1923, and the first ten months of 1924, show:

Total construction: 1923, $3,794,789,250; 1924, $4,247,064,000. Residential construction: 1923, $1,607,436,000; 1924, $1,902,218,125.

Road building, it was estimated by the Federal Reserve Board will aggregate about $1,400,000,000 this year.

"The volume of construction in 1924 has given direct employment to more than 2,500,000 persons and has exercised a sustaining effect on the building material industries," the Federal Reserve Board said. "Cement plants had a record production during the first nine months of 1924, shipments of oak flooring and structural

Able District Attorney
Will Devote All Time
to Practice of Law With
New 3 Member Firm.
IN EFFECT DEC. 1ST.

John C. Arnold, District Attorney of Clearfield County has tendered his resignation to Judge A. R. Chase, effective, December 1st, 1924 and his resignation has been accepted.

A. L. Edwards, Esq., of Osceola, has been appointed District Attorney by Judge A. R. Chase to serve out the balance of the term to which Arnold was elected.

Some two years ago Mr. Arnold formed a law partnership with E. G. Platt. The business of the new firm has grown rapidly during the past few months and it has long been apparent to Mr. Arnold that he must relinquish either the private practice or the District Attorneyship. Yesterday he tendered his resignation as District Attorney and on the same day Howard B. Hartswick, formerly of the firm of Miller and Hartswick, became a member of the firm which will hereafter be known as Hartswick, Arnold and Platt.

Mr. Arnold leaves the office of District Attorney with a record of accomplishments which is not exceeded anywhere in the state. An indefatigable worker he has attended to the business of being a public prosecutor with a zeal that has won the admiration of all good citizens. His ability in criminal court procedure attracted "law business" of another nature, and his civil court practice grew accordingly. It was to take care of this growing business that the firm of Arnold & Platt was organized. The people of the county lose a fearless, conscientious public officer.

The appointment of A. L. Edwards to the important post of District Attorney will meet with hearty approval. He is young, able, virile, ambitious with sufficient experience in the law to fit him for the duties of the office. His activities has brought him before the people in many ways and each time he has won the stamp of approval.

Following is the letter of resignation tendered Judge Chase by Mr. Arnold:

Hon. A. R. Chase,
Clearfield, Penna.
Dear Judge:—
I herewith tender you my resignation as District Attorney of Clearfield County, to be effective December 1st, 1924. You are familiar with my steel have been sustained but there was some decrease in the demand for lumber and brick."

Reviewing the past few years, the Board said that "the expansion" in building operation dates from 1921, with sharp increases in 1922, and more moderate increases in 1923.

"Analysis of contract awards indicate that residential construction reached a peak in the spring of 1924," the Board said.

"Contracts for business, industrial and educational buildings and other public structures reached a peak in 1922, which has not been exceeded since."

Officials said that building materials have declined in price during the past season, following the rise accompanying the expansion of 1921, 1922 and 1923.

Analysis of contracts indicate that new construction has been maintained in relatively greater volume in the New York and San Francisco districts than in other sections of the country, according to the Federal Reserve summary.

"The increase in 1924, is due almost entirely to the large number of new projects in the New York district. In the Philadelphia, Cleveland, Minneapolis and Kansas City districts new building has been smaller in volume in 1924 and 1923."

Court Praises Work
In the Court of Common Pleas of Clearfield County, Pennsylvania.

Now, November 12th, 1924, the resignation of John C. Arnold, Esq., as District Attorney of Clearfield County, having been tendered the Court on this date and it appearing to the Court that the reasons assigned which prompts Mr. Arnold to resign are such that it would be unfair to Mr. Arnold not to accept his resignation, the said resignation is hereby accepted, to become effective as of December 1st, 1924, although in so doing it is recognized that Clearfield County is losing the services of a public officer who by his distinguished abilities and conscientious and fearless performance of the duties imposed by his office brought credit to Clearfield County and distinction to the incumbent. It may be said in accepting this resignation that Mr. Arnold has set a standard of efficiency and devotion to the arduous duties of the office of District Attorney of Clearfield County that has seldom, if ever, been equaled in the history of the County and will be with difficulty surpassed.

Further, the Court accepts this resignation with reluctance because the personal and official relation between the Court and District Attorney had always been of such a nature as to make it a pleasure to work and co-operate with the District Attorney's office.

Now, November 12th, 1924, the resignation of John C. Arnold, Esq., as District Attorney in and for Clearfield County is accepted, to become effective as of December 1st, 1924.

Market News

GRAIN CLOSING

Chicago, Nov. 12 (INS.)—Grains closed up in the latter hours of trading today but closed irregular. Wheat finished 1-4 at 1-1-4 lower; Corn 1-3-4 at 2-1-2 higher and oats 3-8 off to 1-4 higher.

The general drop in the market was considered a natural reaction from Monday's bulge and was not taken as an indication of any inherent weakness.

Trade in wheat was large throughout the session and prices fluctuated sharply as breaks brought buying and rises met with heavy profit taking. Lower cables acted as a bearish influence.

Corn met with heavy buying on its weak opening, sending prices to a premium over yesterday's close. There were bullish reports of export demand for the grain which held the market firm, despite realizing sales which came with the advance.

Peat Is Full of Chemicals

Aside from its value as fuel and its use in agriculture, peat has a score or more of uses, and its field is being constantly widened. A long list of chemicals are extracted from it. These include ammonia, methyl alcohol, acetone, acetic acid, pyridines, monophenols, a gasoline-like spirit, some neutral oils, paraffin wax, tar and dyes.

It was so arranged that no spark would cause a severe shock to a boy strapped in it. The punishment was intended to consist of almost entirely of mental suspense. But one pupil, Earl Peterson, claims one leg was slightly burned. As a result, Opsahl was arrested on an assault charge. The chair is shown in the above picture and an artist has painted in an imaginary subject.

Composition of the Amethyst.
Scientists define the amethyst as a clear purple or bluish-violet variety of crystallized quartz. In hardness it ranks below the diamond in the proportion of nine to ten. Though it resists acids, it can be cut with a file and its color can be dulled by the application of heat. The stone apparently tries to hide from the eyes of man; for if it does not lie within the covers of a bed of granite, it will have as its cloister a hollow rock ball technically known as a geode.

The earth has shrunk about 570 miles in radius since its creation, according to a noted scientist. The shrinkage is due principally to pressure which causes the earth's molecules to rearrange themselves in less space.

A CROMAR Floored House Commands a Higher Rental or Selling Value

Of course, any good oak floor makes a home more desirable and valuable. But a CROMAR Oak Floor has a still greater attraction for the prospective owner—for two main reasons:

CROMAR has a finer, more lustrous finish, much like that of fine furniture—it appeals to the buyer's sense of beauty. And CROMAR's surface is wear-resisting to a truly remarkable degree.

Machine-finishing at the factory—perfectly uniform filling and varnishing under pressure—makes this more beautiful and more enduring finish possible.

In new houses or over old floors the owner profits further by the speed of laying. CROMAR comes to you ready for any carpenter to install (two can lay a room a day), and ready to use as soon as the last nail is driven. This eliminates the long drawn-out inconvenience attending the ordinary method, where six or seven mussy finishing operations are required after the floor is laid. On top of all its other advantages, the completed floor costs less when CROMAR is used.

There are lumber dealers in your city who will be glad to show you CROMAR Floors, and quote you prices. Write to us for their names; also booklets and sample.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Hopes of astronomers that the comet discovered in Germany in September by Prof. Finsler, of the Bonn University observatory, might prove a worthy successor of the brilliant comets of the last century seem not to be realized. While it was brighter than any such objects that have appeared recently, it is now moving near to the sun, and it is doubtful whether it will become bright enough to be seen with the naked eye at all.

Contrary to the opinion of many people, astronomers have no way of telling when a comet is coming until it has actually appeared. One of the most frequent questions of visitors to an observatory is, "When will we see another comet?" While there are a number of periodic comets which return to our neighborhood regularly, most of them are so faint as to be seen only with the aid of the telescope. Even those that can be seen with the naked eye usually present no especially striking features, but appear merely as faint patches of light.

Halley's comet, the most famous of these periodic visitors, was an exception, and could be easily seen in 1910; but even it was not really first class. The chief interest which it has to astronomers is that it was the first of the periodic comets to be discovered, and authentic records of its visits have been found as far back as the second century B. C. As it is believed that a comet, when near the sun, dissipates the material of which it is made, it is probable that Halley's comet was a much more striking object in earlier times. At present it is somewhere between the orbits of Uranus and Neptune, about 2,000,000,000 miles away, and is still receding. In 1950 it will have reached the end of its journey and will start back to the regions of the sun, arriving about April 29, 1986.

However, while these periodic comets are known, there are many others which appear without warning and which are apparently visitors to the solar system from outlying space and which, when their visit is completed, leave us for all time. Some of these have attained such a brilliancy as to be seen in full daylight. In 1811 a famous one appeared and at one time had a tail, which we believe in all cases to be composed of matter given off from the brighter head, more than 100,000,000 miles long.

Donati's comet appeared in 1858 and was one of the most brilliant ever recorded. Its tail reached a maximum length of about 54,000,000 miles when it subtended an angle of more than 30 degrees, as seen from the earth. Studies of its orbit led astronomers to believe that it was periodic, with a period of about 2000 years. Patience will be required to find out, but if it returns in 3558 these deductions will be verified.

Another brilliant comet appeared in 1861, known as Tebbutt's comet, after its discoverer, an Australian amateur. Then again in 1880 and 1882 two more magnificent examples of these objects appeared. The latter was especially interesting scientifically, because after it had passed closest to the sun it was found to have been subject to violent disruptive forces, as the nucleus of the head was broken up into smaller pieces. It was also the first comet to be photographed. Pictures of it were made by Sir David Gill, who was then in charge of the British Royal Observatory at the Cape of Good Hope.

Apparently these brilliant displays exhausted nature's supply of comets for a time, for since 1882 no other comet of great brilliancy has been seen. Probably the last century was especially fortunate but records show that on the average there are about three to every century, so we seem to have some right to expect another before long.

The substance of which these objects consist is apparently very rare, for distant stars have been observed through the heads of some and found to be scarcely diminished in brightness. Then again, they pass close to the various members of the solar system without appreciably affecting them, as they would if they had any considerable mass. On at least two occasions, once with Halley's comet in 1910, the earth has passed through a comet's tail, and noticeable effects were observed. Consequently, it is supposed that they are merely clouds of small particles and gases held together by some attractive force which is not entirely understood and which gives off light in the presence of the sun. Their light is not reflected sunlight, however, but may be a fluorescence excited by very short vibrations in the sunlight, in much the same way that certain substances glow under the X-rays.

MEAN CHICKEN THIEF

Chicken thieves appear to be no respecter of persons as one of these parts of the scum of the earth recently visited the hen-coop of a sick widow woman in East End and stole therefrom seven of the eight chickens it contained.

The hen left behind is doing no good by itself and the thief is requested either to return the seven stolen chickens or to come back and steal the remaining one.

RETURN FROM THE WEST

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Conklin have returned to their home on William street after a pleasant two months trip to the Pacific coast. While in California they were guests of their daughter Mrs. Clark Bailey. They enjoyed the trip immensely but wouldn't swap old Pennsylvania for California as a dwelling place.

C. G. Hastings, of Pittsburgh, visited home folks last week.

A. J. Benson, Olof J. Larson, Evald Larson, and Andrew Frendberg, all of Grassflat, were in town yesterday attending the funeral of W. Clark Miller.

Young Mothers, Heed This Advice!

Easton, Pa.—"There is nothing in the way of a woman's medicine so good for the expectant mother to take for health and strength as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, also to build her up afterward. I am the mother of a fine healthy family and I took the 'Prescription' during all of my expectant periods and it was wonderful the way it always kept me up in health and strength every time. I did not suffer with morning sickness nor any of the trying things that came to most expectant mothers. I also took 'Favorite Prescription' afterward and it was equally as valuable to me for my strength always came back very quickly. I wish all expectant mothers who suffer know of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."—Mrs. Wm. Woodring, 1027 Jefferson St.

Begin by purchasing now the 'Favorite Prescription' of your near-by drug store in tablet or liquid form. You soon feel its beneficial effect. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial pkg.

DR. D. N. MILLER'S LAST SERVICE

Will be held this evening. This week wonderful meetings have been enjoyed by increasing congregations. Rev. Dr. J. V. Adams assisted, his fine voice blending charmingly with Dr. Miller's in a duet. Last night Dr. Miller sang "Christ is All." And manifested improvement in congregational singing delighted him.

His afternoon talks have been especially helpful. This afternoon he met with a group of young people. Last night was "Family Night" in which the families were seated together. Among those at the altar service two families were represented in three generations.

He began with a helpful period of testifying, in which folks, other than Methodists, took part. He spoke of the several challenges—of service, of faith, of purposes and opportunity. It was a very direct and telling discourse. And the after meeting, centered in the altar, moved in easy spirit and response. These meetings are touching boys and girls.

This final service tonight will be marked with many features. The people will enjoy his last message and singing. Tonight has been set for the free-will offering the people of Trinity and the friends that have been attending these services will make to Dr. Miller for his work in this intensive drive. After the service the regular meeting of the Official Board. Let the people turn out in representative numbers.

Scared by Lion—No Lyn!

Sam never was so scared in all his life. Here he was, a modern Daniel, in the lion's den, with old Nero right on top of him. But Nero for some reason or other, didn't think much of Sam as food. Evidently he had just had his dinner. Sam though surely put in a couple terrible minutes—they seemed like hours—until they opened the door and let him out. The picture was taken on the Guss Lion Farm at 12 Monte Carlo.

2236.1 Miles in 48 Hours!

A Startling Nation-Wide Demonstration of Motor Car Stamina, Speed and Economy

Here is an amazing exhibition of motor car stamina, speed and economy—the most magnificent ever given the American public.

For 48 continuous hours, scores of Cleveland Sixes roared over the highways of America—

—participating simultaneously in a National Non-Stop Economy Run—

—demonstrating clearly and conclusively that the 1925 Cleveland Six is destined to go into history as one of the epoch making cars!

The winner went 2236.1 miles at an average speed of 46.5 m. p. h., averaging 28.3 miles to the gallon.

The eight leading entries covered an average of 2117.3 miles in 48 hours at an average speed of 44.1 m. p. h. and averaged 25.5 miles to the gallon.

And all 86 participating cars showed a grand average mileage of 1565 for the 48 hours; a grand average speed of 32.6 m. p. h. and a grand average economy of 21.4 miles per gallon.

There have been non-stop runs before—but never one like this. Never one so comprehensive in its scope—so free from any suspicion of "stunt" performance—so full of meaty facts.

All entries were standard 1925 Cleveland Sixes—exactly the car you see on the street.

Professional racing drivers were barred. Salesmen, executives, mechanics, accountants, newspaper men and even stenographers handled the wheel in various parts of the country.

Every car carried at least one passenger. Every motor ran 48 hours without stopping. Every car was officially observed. Every result was sworn to.

The records were not made on banked and guarded speedways—but in every section of the country over every conceivable sort of road, under every conceivable driving condition.

Here the highways were concrete, level and dry. There the roads ran with rain and clinging mud clutched at the wheels.

Here the going was gravel, loose and treacherous. Here again it was some dusty trail that led uphill and down through six or seven states.

At times the roads were clear and speeds of 50-60-70 miles an hour could be maintained. At others, congested traffic called for sure, swift, certain brakes and a steering gear that responded with split-second speed.

The average man will rarely do two months driving in two days—will rarely want to travel some 2,000 miles at a speed of 46 miles an hour regardless of road or weather.

But the average man DOES want a car that can come through such a racking, gruelling grind with flying colors.

And the man who has a Cleveland Six knows that his car will do all that—and more!

He knows that the Mileage Motor gives him an undreamed-of combination of power, endurance, speed and flawless operation—

—that he can safely expect 20 miles to the gallon in normal driving—

—that he can count on long life and inexpensive maintenance—

—and that, no matter what model he chooses, it will have the same fine materials, the same inspired engineering, and the same scrupulous workmanship that made these brilliant results an actuality!

CHURCH AND COMMUNITY

"The church," we are told often nowadays, "has lost its power. The life has gone out of it. It is no longer a force in the community. Its day is past."

Consider, then, the situation in the thriving little city of Cape Girardeau, Mo., which according to a national directory has 10,000 people and numerous flour mills, foundries, factories making cigars, handles, boxes, threshing machines and staves, cooperage works, stone crushers, brick and lumber yards, cement works, and the usual outfit of stores, banks and other business institutions.

The stranger arriving there is greeted by a big sign opposite the handsome union station, reading: "Cape Girardeau—a city of churches, schools and substantial business institutions, where the home is paramount and where the church is the foundation of the community life."

That church item challenges attention. The inquiring visitor soon discovers that it is no mere idle boast or sentimental touch. The citizens have united in a movement to make the church really dominant in the life of their city.

They have a fund for that purpose, raised by public subscription. They set forth the claims of their religious institutions in three illuminated signboards and in systematic newspaper advertising the year 'round. Once a year the daily papers give a dinner at which pastors and representative laymen discuss plans for concerted church work. Budgets, attendance and miscellaneous activities are all increasing steadily. And there is harmony and genuine co-operation in that city, not to mention law, order, morals, education and civic progress.

"And the denomination running all this?" some inquirer may ask. Well, the chairman of the church promotion organization is a Protestant, the secretary is a Catholic, and the largest contributor is a Jew.

NEXT SUNDAY—RED CROSS SUNDAY

Once again, on the Sunday after Armistice Day, the Red Cross is mobilizing its volunteer workers for the Eighth Annual Roll Call. You will be asked by a Roll Call worker, who will visit your home on Sunday afternoon, to enlist in the cause of humanity and be a sharer in this noble work. "It is not merely a duty, but like our citizenship, it is a privilege to be a member of the one national organization, equipped and ready in an instant to answer the call of distressed humanity in every emergency." We know you will answer "Present" when your name is called on Sunday.

In previous years you have been asked merely for your dollar membership, but today for the first time since the war, the Clearfield Chapter is in dire need of money with which to carry on their philanthropic activities. The budget for the current twelve months, beginning in September, is $5,000. You are therefore asked for a contribution of more than a dollar, accordingly as you are able to contribute. Fifty cents of every dollar goes to national headquarters and but fifty cents of $5, $10, $20 or $25 subscriptions or larger, are required by the national organization. In this community the work centers round the Nursing Service with its Baby Clinics, which registered 144 babies this last month; its classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick; its bedside nursing for those who do not need an all time nurse, and this last month one hundred and ten nursing visits were made by our nurse.

And besides this work the Clearfield Chapter is still called upon to furnish aid to disabled ex-service men and their families.

These activities must be continued, but although willing workers stand ready to do their part, the financial problem is yours to decide. Think it over, make your decision before Sunday, and help the worker who calls upon you by subscribing promptly.

The work during the past year has been greatly curtailed because of lack of funds.

GETTING OUT FROM UNDER

LOCATE BICYCLE THIEVES

For some time the local police have been annoyed by complaints from every section of town regarding the disappearance of bicycles left standing along the street. During the past couple of months, four or five different bikes have disappeared and the police have been working hard trying to run down the bicycle stealers and succeeded yesterday in doing just that.

The stealing was finally fastened on a trio of boys in the Hyde section and Tuesday morning Jesse King, aged 17, and Frank Catherman, 15, of Carbon Mines, with "Mickey" McDonald of Hyde, were taken into custody charged with stealing the several missing bicycles. The lads admitted their guilt and were placed in the juvenile ward at the jail to await a hearing in juvenile court today or tomorrow.

Two of the stolen bicycles were found in the possession of Catherman and turned over to the police, while King claimed to have taken two he got over to Houtzdale or Madera and sold them.

The McDonald boy confessed to having stolen Billy Piper's new Columbia from where Billy left it in front of Dr. Gordon's residence on Locust street. He said he rode the machine up to Driftwood school house above Carbon Mines, where he hid it in the weeds and brush along the river bank. The next morning when he went to get it the bicycle was gone.

This story was corroborated by King, who said he stole the bicycle after McDonald had hidden it and rode it over to Madera, where he disposed of it for $4. His story is being investigated with a view to recovering the bicycle for the owner.

Wanted to Know.

A wealthy Irish farmer, intending to send his son to college wrote a letter to the "Head Master of Oxford University," in which he said: "Please say what are your terms for a year; and will it cost anything extra if my son learns to write a good hand and spell proper, as well as to row a boat?"—Weekly Telegraph.

Eleventh Commandment.

Answering a question as to the religious significance of the so-called Eleventh Commandment, a reader states that the answer is found in the book of John 13:34, in which Jesus said: "A new commandment, I give unto you, that you love one another."

Now is the Ideal Time to Build More Paved Highways

There is not a single community in the United States that does not need a greater mileage of permanently paved roads.

16,000,000 motor vehicles are now using our highways for business and pleasure. They are packing the paved roads in already congested areas, as well as over-running regions until recently considered remote. And they are pounding to pieces all but permanent roads.

Even though a number of states have made good progress in building Concrete Roads, their present permanently improved mileage is entirely inadequate, as every motorist knows.

Meantime, while the building of permanent highways lags, the production of motor vehicles is increasing the present total at the rate of 4,000,000 a year!

Sooner or later this gap must be closed. Why wait?

Not in a long time have general conditions been so favorable for carrying on such public works as permanent highway building, thus assuring tax payers more for their money.

Now is the ideal time to extend both street and road programs!

PATTERNS

By FLORENCE DAVIES

A pattern, as every home dress-maker knows, is a great thing if it's the right one.

It's all easy enough, once you get the pattern. With that you can make a hundred dresses as easy as one. But with the wrong pattern, alas! the hundredth dress is as bad or worse than the first.

Now, the interesting thing about that, is that people have certain patterns in their minds as well as on paper. They carry around with them mental patterns, by which, willy nilly, like it or not, they cut out their cloth of life.

Some patterns are always a little skimpy, others have sweeping and generous line. There are people who always work with a mental pattern of doubt and apprehension. And there are other people who carry in their minds a pattern of success and happiness and achievement.

"Good golf," says a certain sport writer, "is all a matter of getting the right mental pattern."

"How does he do it?" I once asked an athletic coach who had trained a man to go over the high hurdles in glorious fashion.

"He does it all up here," the coach said, pointing to his forehead, "It's all back of the eyes."

"I see," I said, "a kind of mental pattern, a sense of form in the mind first, that translates itself to the muscles."

"Something like that," the man said.

"Ty Cobb, grand old man of baseball is said to have read every life of Napoleon ever written. He steeps his mind in the pattern of great general-ship. It's one way to pound the idea of leadership into his mind.

Even an artist, says a great art teacher, paints more with his mind than with his hands and eyes. He thinks the problem through first, and sets down the mental pattern.

Isn't it just possible, then, that many of us waste a good deal of energy by trying to work without a clear cut pattern, or by using the wrong one?

There's a reason back of some of the business clubs of men and women whose members are chosen from among only the most successful representatives of the various professions and varieties of business. These people may not have said it, in so many words, but in reality they find it worth while to be together in order to stamp the pattern of success on their minds.

Perhaps the thing you're trying to do is not spectacular. Perhaps it has nothing to do with big business or artistic triumph, or the career of Napoleon. Perhaps it's just limited by the four walls of a home. But whatever it is, you'll do it better if you get the right mental pattern first and then keep cutting by that pattern over and over again.

And the way to get the right mental pattern is to keep seeking those things which stand for the right mental pattern, and steep your mind in them. The rest will come as easily as the hurdler got into form, once he got the picture of that form firmly fixed in his mind.

Too many of us fight with our hands first and then with our heads to get us out of the bungle our hands have made. Why not try it the other way? Successful living, as well as golf, is all a question of the mind in the pattern of great general-

Cooperative Work Shows Rapid Growth

Recently Organized Associations Do Big Business.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
The Southern states show greater cooperative marketing growth since 1915 than other states where cooperative marketing is of longer standing, according to a tabulation made by the United States Department of Agriculture. The large volume of business handled by the recently organized tobacco, cotton and rice associations is given as the reason for the change.
Cooperative organizations in the seven West North Central states handled 45 per cent of the total business transacted in all states in 1915, whereas co-operatives in these states now handle 30 per cent of the total business. Organizations in the three Pacific states in 1915 did 24 per cent of the total business, as compared with 19 per cent in 1923. Co-operatives in the East North Central group did 14 per cent of the total in 1915, as compared with 15 per cent in 1923, and co-operatives in the Middle Atlantic group did 9 per cent in 1915, as compared with 12 1/2 per cent in 1923.
The greatest growth is shown in the East South Central group, where co-operatives in 1915 did little better than 1 per cent of the total business, as compared with 9 per cent in 1923. The figures for the South Atlantic states show a jump from 2 per cent to 7 per cent, and the West South Central states an increase from 1 per cent in 1915 to 4 per cent in 1923. A small increase is shown in the New England states and a slight decrease in the Mountain states.

Ventilation Necessary in Storing Seed Corn

Ventilation and heat are the two things necessary to successful seed corn storage. Any place that has a good roof, is dry and has plenty of ventilation is satisfactory.
The chief problem in storing seed corn is to provide a means whereby the moisture content can be reduced to the point where the germ is not injured by freezing weather, and that it remains this way until planting time. If the corn is picked early enough, properly hung and in a dry, airy place, there is usually no need for artificial heat.
Never store corn in sacks, piles or by placing one row of ears immediately on top of another, writes Ralph Johnston in the Dakota Farmer. I have some air around each ear.
There are many different methods of storing seed corn. There is the blinding twine method by which the ears are laid on the twine, covering the cords each time after the ear is laid in place and alternating the butts and tips. Ten to twelve ears are put in each string. There are wire racks of various kinds with both vertical and horizontal strands. There are various kinds of "tree" or "post" systems by which ears are attached to nails which have been driven in or through posts or boards in an upright slanting manner.

SOAKS RIGHT IN AND LIMBERS UP STIFF JOINTS

Pharmacists Call It "Joint-Ease" Because It's for Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only.

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain relieving and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as new.
They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint-Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.
So "Joint-Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

CURRWENSVILLE DEFEATS JUNIATA

To Insure Success getting a square deal isn't all that's easy; you must know how to your hand.—Boston Transcript.

SEEN FROM THE SIDELINES

Hark, Hark, the Lark!
A little daughter of the slum her first day in the country, saw motionless, high in air, pouring its lovely music. She listened ment, then she ran to the music
"Oh, Miss May," she said, "it a sparrow go there, and he came up and he can't get down, and ain't doing a thing but holler about cold, such insulation being particularly desirable in barns and houses. The boxes are opened at the joints and flattened out, the material being applied with shingle and tin washers, such as used in the construction of roofing paper.

Salt Tells of Storm's Approach
Salt is extremely sensitive to changes. A very cheap, pretentious effective barometer can be made of a bunch of colored ribbons or of flowers. Soak your ribbons

Bratton, whose learned toe saved a shutout for the 'Burgers, deserves a lot of credit. The little quarter stepped back, took his stance, received the pass from center and booted the ball. The kick was peculiar as it left his foot from the instep instead of the toe, but at any rate it was a wonderful kick.

DuBois had a "size eight" delegation at the game, consisting mostly of DuBois High grid men, while "Scoops" Spackman was there to get a little done for the Courier.

Taking scores as a comparison, the local boys are about to get a stiff job when they meet DuBois. DuBois won 44-27 from Philippsburg and Clearfield was lucky to win 7-3.

Billy Betts got away once for 4 yards thru the line but he was called back because his shoestrings fell out of bounds or some other thing that we nor the referee didn't know anything about. But anyhow the play was brought back.

Clearfield's players who saw the Tech-State game sure used it to advantage. They learned to follow the ball. But the line didn't learn what it seems, and they were giving one of the best lines in the country.

The crowd was about as hard handle as a greased pig. The on way they could hold them was dusting them and threatening, b there was about as much order as a political convention.

Now here it is straight. Every one get a horse shoe and a rabbit foot and with no fingers crossed chase the black cats and mirrors out of town, because DuBois comes here to 22nd and Curwensville the 20th. A only football will beat these tears but every little bit of luck counts.

Between halves a world war was fought but soldiers of the late won it. DuBois failed to show up. Clearfield and Philipsburg did stunt. The pulling was about till the rope broke, then both went down for the count.

Longfellow's Favorite Gem.
The favorite gem of the American poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was an amethyst of the deepest shade of purple, which, upon being exhibited in artificial light, glowed like a ruby. St. Valentine wore a ring, so it is said, with Cupid engraved upon an amethyst set. Very appropriate, indeed. Perhaps both St. Valentine and the poet were partial to the gem because each was born in the month of February, for which it is the birthstone.

Strange Requests.

Strange and sometimes pathetic requests that deceased people occasionally leave behind them. The other day a farmer was horrified by his grave on a farm cut drawn up his favorite pony, London Ansates. Some time ago a lady was a brilliant pianist, asked the will that she might be buried in piano instead of a coffin. Another lady was buried at sea, by her wish, and the coffin borne there on a fishing boat by two fishermen. I had known her since her childhood.

Phillipsburg High was depressively eliminated from the two-coupled championship race when the Tech team lost to Clearfield High 7-3 at Scott Field yesterday. Up to this defeat the burgers had a good chance to win the title, but it was upset when Capt. Bob Wilson scored Clearfield's touchdown. Phillipsburg previously licked Curwensville and gave DuBois the scare of their lives at the last minutes, but now they are out of the race entirely, thru the work of the Reed team.

One of the largest grid crowds that ever gathered there was on Scott Field and they got a real treat. The stands were well filled while the sidelines were solid and from time to time the sidelines were forced about 10 or 15 yards. At times the crowd would edge onto the playing field, while several even went out and listened to the arguments with occasional spectator going out and telling the home team how to play. The crowd was about evenly distributed between Clearfield and Phillipsburg, while DuBois and Curwensville's curiosity got the best of them and they had a lot of "dopesters" busy on Clearfield.

The play bristled with fight and hard playing. Both teams fought stubbornly for every inch when inches counted, but when the goal was a little more distant Clearfield did not show so much fight as the Blue and White team.

The game was about even, but teams doing their share of gaining and all around good playing. Clearfield's backs got their yardage when it was needed, while the engine needed it the Red and Black line had. Twice Philipsburg had the ball inside the Clearfield 10-yard line, only to have the Wilson team tighten up to avert a score. While Clearfield's drive for a touchdown could not be stopped for the first time, the second and third possible scores were squelched. The attempted field goals were wild.

The local team played straight football and uncovered not a "flake" play for possible "snipe." Mitchellre scented an alien element in the crowd from teams yet to run and held his plays to end runs and line bucks, with a bias to break monotony.

Abraham and Hellwell were big figures in the Blue's ground game, and both these big boys played, while, Abraham hitting the line and while Hellwell's end running. Line bucking helped a lot. Both these educated players shut water got off some very nice kicks. Burg line also deserves mention; they displayed a good type of ball and fought a heavier line success.

For Clearfield, Mooney, Johnson and Wilson looked exceedingly good. The two ends, Mooney and Johnson, were down under the punt and held the would-be return without gain. Both boys played a customary good game in every way, also. Rowles at guard was about as valuable 150-pound line as there was on the field. It was thru his playing that Wilson secured to score Clearfield's touch-down "Mitch" called for an end-run at Johnston's end. The play started and Johnson wheeled from his position on the opposite side of the line, swinging in with the interference. The play went all right until the line was reached, then Captain Berger attempted to stop Captain Wilson. Rowles hit the enemy amidships and Wilson continued his six-point destination.

SCHOOL DAYS

In a rather first game Curwensville's remodeled team was able to defeat the strong Juniata team by a score which does not tell the story of the cleanness of the play. During the first three quarters of the game the final outcome was a matter resting entirely in the sympathies of the spectator. In the last quarter however the Curwensville team proved that since the DuBois game something had developed staying qualities, lack of which was the great weakness of the team during the early part of the season. Coach Black, with the assistance of Doug Dunsmore has been working for two weeks to develop a team which would compare in potential strength with the team which first took the field at DuBois. The Curwensville fans were much pleased to see Kephart back at center and also to see Bill Starr showing a return of the form of last year and the year before. The work of Starr in the backfield was the sensation of the last three quarters. Red Shaffer commencing on account of an injury which he played for a man and for his open field running. Wright at last found the piece which was just made for him at left end. His catch of a long forward pass just before the end of the first half gave Curwensville its only touchdown of the first two periods. Brunetti and Maurey both played the game that Curwensville has come to expect of them and were the cause of many of Curwensville's gains. In the line Clark and Neuper were towers of strength on both the offensive and could easily be counted on to open holes in Juniata's defense. Joe Kelly playing his first game at guard gave promise of making with Wright a pair of the best ends that Curwensville has produced with the possible exception of Edwards.

The first half was an evenly matched struggle with first one side and then the other gaining. Near the end of the half a long pass, Maurey to Wright, left Wright with an open field which he used to good advantage, scoring the first six points. With the opening of the second half some of the pep of Conch Black was evidenced and from that time Curwensville won on the top of the heap, scoring three touchdowns. In their four touchdowns Curwensville managed to make the extra-point only once. Both sides made a touchdown which was not scored by the referee.

Headlinesman: Lantz.
Field Judge: Vaughn.

The next game on Curwensville schedule is Portage. This game is arranged to be played at Curwensville next Saturday, November 15th. The Portage team has a formidable record so far this year. They have played seven games, winning all of them, only having their goal line crossed once. From this it appears that Curwensville will have their hands full to keep them from making it else straight.

Wonderful Game At Philipsburg

Capt. Wilson also proved himself a peerless player. Bob gained a major portion of Clearfield's yardage aside from making some pretty tackles.

Clearfield's signals were neither mystifying nor entangling to their opponents. Every Red and Black play was covered and from the minute Mitch's figure discourse was bawled out Philipsburg had the man and play covered.

Capt. Wilson won the toss and elected to kick toward the Clearfield stands. Don Thurston kicked to Abraham but the latter was cut down with little return. The first period found Clearfield inside the enemy's 50-yard line. The game continued with Wilson scoring after Johnston had recovered a Philipsburg fumble on the 20-yard line. The point was given Clearfield when a Blue lineman was detected offside. The game continued back and forth the rest of the half, being broken by Bratton's pretty kick from the 35-yard line. From this juncture it was first Clearfield then Philipsburg with the ball, with no sensational "goings on."

Philipsburg Legion Men Put On Big Celebration

ing show, at Jimmy Nixon's Midway, the pioneer amusement place on this end of the Lakes-to-the-Sea highway and a real place which enjoys deserved popularity throughout this region.

An imposing fight card had been arranged for by the Legion, which went out of its way to get the very best for its patrons, but like the "run of the mine" boxing bouts "out in these here sticks," the boxing show looked much better on paper than it did on the canvas of the ring floor.

The first bout on the card was a six round affair between Johnny Jettick, of Philadelphia, and Mickey Burkett, of Altoona. It lasted but half the distance the Altoona bearcat getting a bellyful before going half way of the route. He was said to have hurt his hand.

The second bout was a hummer and the only real fight on the card. In this offering Dick Conlon, Altoona's pride, caught a Tartar in the person of a wedge-headed Filipino named Pedro Campo, who now hails from Philadelphia. It was a whale of a scrap through every one of the six torrid rounds. The white boy forced the fighting thruout, but his little brown brother was a neat carpenter and stayed with him to a finish and had Dickie pretty tired when the final session ended. The four judges were equally divided but referee "Pop" O'Brien, the ring's most famous referee, said Conlon had the shade. A draw would have been a much more popular decision.

The funniest thing in the boxing line ever put on in "these bushes" was presented to the crowd, which laughed its sides sore, by the third bout on the card. This was between Bob Martin, former A. E. F. champion and Roy Yaulliemet, of Philadelphia. Martin was about as big as Bish Lansberry, Emperor of Bish-town, and looked and acted just about what we would expect of Bish in the prize ring. In a mixup at close quarters about the middle of the first round the Philadelphian landed a short arm punch flush on the jaw and he sat down hard on the canvas floor. After he got up he got an awful lacing and appeared to go asleep on his feet and remained that way through the two or three rounds which followed. He would lash out with a roundabout from one of the longest arms we ever saw. In captivity and when the leather covered ten pound ham on the end of it landed on the Frenchman he necessarily wilted. Both men appeared to be "out" on their feet a couple of times but the bell saved them from a double knockout and about the end of the fourth round, after Martin had given up a handful of his bicepspids a series of sledge hammer jolts from Martin's hams ended the agony by rendering the Frenchman hors du combat, as his country men would have it. Martin found out he had won some ten minutes later.

The big bout of the evening, the windup between Harry Greb, middleweight champion of the world, of Pittsburgh, and Otto Hughes, of New Jersey, proved to be a flivver. Hughes "was" a Democrat and refused to fight while in mourning for his lately deceased party, and presented an alleged alibi from an alleged doctor to the effect that he was sick. Hughes place was taken by a grinning old yellow man, introduced as the middleweight champion of the Philippine Islands but who, some of the boys who swam that river with Funston back in 1898, said looked like Emilio Aguinaldo's grandpapa. Greb gave as good an exhibition as was possible and furnished a little amusement by holding the old fellow off with one hand for a couple of rounds and then slapped him for the count.

Billy Rocap, veteran new man and head of the State Commission, of Philadelphia, the ringster and got a great when introduced, as did also O'Brien, Philadelphia's noted bitrator.

The crowd at the show was large though not as large as ed, the arrangements were

The fire alarm sounded about two o'clock this morning, routing out the firemen. The fire was discovered to be in a double house near the P. H. & L. innery, one side of the house being occupied by George Smith. A free use of chemicals soon had the fire under control before any great amount of damage had been done. The fire started from some ashes dumped against the side of the building. It proved a stubborn fight for the Rescue boys for a little while.

Dante Arrives in City For First Showing Of Mysteries This Evening

Dante, the noted European magician, will appear under the management of Thurston, famous American conjurer, at the Driggs Theatre for 2 days beginning tonight.

Thurston succeeded Keller, eight years ago and in that time he conclusively demonstrated that he is the greatest magician America has produced. The demand for his appearances has been so great that he has finally arranged with Dante to visit this country. In addition to his wonderful European illusions, he will present the best of the Thurston-Keller mysteries, which insure a combination which will remain absolutely unexcelled in the annals of magical production.

Dante is not only a magician of incomparable skill, but also a trans-formist, illusionist and maker of miracles—doing the seemingly impossible and making the unreal common place. As a sleight of hand artist, he stands unrivalled.

In his performances he requires the services of twenty-three trained assistants, every one of whom is an expert in that particular phase of work which he is required to do. Dante has spent one whole year preparing the production which he is bringing to America. Every member of his staff is a specialist in his own line, and his work in the past has been of the highest order.

Power From House Faucet.
The power supplied by the water from a house faucet is sufficient to drive a small dynamo by means of a new motor of about one-half horse power, recently developed by a French scientist and inventor. In his city home the motor installation is permanently attached to the tap, and power is generated every time water is drawn for any of the myriad household purposes. Surplus energy, generated during the day is stored in a battery and later drawn upon to supply 20 incandescent bulbs of 15 to 20 candle power, says Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Of Much Importance to Keep Outside Gave Dry

The outside cave or storage cellar should be well ventilated and well drained and this is a problem in many kinds of soil. Keeping a pit well drained by using a rather high point of land and with the walls of the entrance several inches above ground there will be no danger of water from the outside.

Seepage can be prevented by digging a large pocket in the floor before the concrete is laid. This is filled with gravel or sand and the concrete then sloped toward this pocket from all sides where it terminates in a drain. Building tile will generally give a dry floor if they are laid flat and end to end. If desired they can be covered with two inches of concrete or cinders.

FARM NOTES

Water cools cream and milk 25 times as fast as air of the same temperature.

A good range and a balanced ration usually prevent towel trouble in the hens.

What coat do you prefer on your exposed farm machinery? One of rust or one of grease?

Sell all your old metal birds while they are useless and are simply eating their heads off.

As long as farmers average 16 to 17 bushels per acre, corn will continue to be an expensive crop.

Most farms do not have enough fruit and nut trees. A hazel hedge will hide unsightly buildings.

The dairy farmer with a silo full of silage need take no thought for tomorrow what his cows shall eat.

Good Joker

At 20, John J. Mitchell started running errands for a bank. At 26 he was that bank's president. Today, at 71, he's still president of the Illinois Merchants Trust Company of Chicago. He's called one of the funniest men in big business. He always has a joke up his sleeve. For jokes, he says, have kept him fit.

Lifting Power of Air.
The lifting power of air is 0.013 pounds per one thousand cubic feet of air for each degree Fahrenheit above the temperature of the surrounding air. This weight is the total weight inclusive of the dead weight of the balloon.

Scotts Head, E. Macadam.
Macadam roads are so common in America that national pride may well lead us to look upon them as a domestic product. But John Macadam was a Scot, resident in Ayrshire, where he made his first experiments about 1814. Five years later the first public roads were laid with the pavement, and a grant of £50,000. In 1827, after the new pavement had been thoroughly tested, Macadam was made surveyor general of all metropolitan roads in and about London, and the use of his method became general throughout the United Kingdom.

Avoid Airing Troubles.
This I always religiously observed, as a rule, never to chide before company nor to prattle abroad of misadventures at home. What passes between two people is much easier made up than when once it has taken air.—Erasmus.

Joan of Arc's Betrayal
Joan of Arc, the French national heroine, may be said to have been betrayed by her own people, since it was the Duke of Burgundy who captured her at Compiègne and sold her to the English.

Have You a Bad Back?

Then the Advice of This Clearfield Resident Will Interest You.

Does your back ache night and day? Hinder work, destroy your rest? When you stoop, lift or bend? Then likely your kidneys are weak. More troubles may soon appear. Headaches, dizziness, nervousness, Or uric acid and its ills. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Read this Clearfield testimony: Geo. J. Kragle, painter, 306 E. Locust St. says: "A cold settled in my kidneys and backache gave me little rest. The most troublesome times were when I stood in one position too long or if I stooped. The sharp kink took me in the small of my back and it was hard to straighten. Sometimes, a lame, sore back bothered me mornings. My kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Pills from Aughenbaugh's Drug Store drove away the backache and regulated my kidneys." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

CHRYSLER

Where Chrysler Sales Are Coming From

There has been much discussion, of course, concerning the unprecedented sales of the Chrysler. No car of quality has ever made such a success in the same space of time. Naturally there has been a great deal of speculation as to where these sales came from. That question can be quickly answered. The Chrysler has made a market which is all its own. Its outstanding qualities are universal in their appeal. Everyone delights in the Chrysler combination of dashing appearance and dashing performance. Everyone recognizes at once how unnecessarily high and unwieldy other cars seem when you look up at them from the comfortable seats of a Chrysler. The Chrysler has invaded the highest priced division in every city in the country. Why not? The contrast in conservation of space, weight and height, the delightful ease of handling and parking, the cradling comfort both of riding and driving—these things are too pronounced to be overlooked by one who has driven more cumbersome cars. So the Chrysler invades the division of highest price—and makes equally striking appeal to the division below it and the next and the next. There isn't an unnecessary ounce or inch in the Chrysler—nothing but a thoroughbred utility throughout which has revived public conception of what constitutes sound motor car investment. The Chrysler market is a market made up of people who instantly discard the past when the present offers them something better. And that means, of course—all America.

Bedford, Va., Nov. 12. (INS.)—The death toll from Monday's cider party at the Elks national home here mounted to ten today when James K. Collins, of New York City succumbed to the arsenic-tainted cider.

Physicians who are in attendance at the home said this afternoon that one of the men who drank the poisoned cider are definitely out of danger.

Bedford, Va., Nov. 12. (INS.)—Physicians were hopeful today that additional deaths would occur among residents of the Elks national home here as a result of Monday's cider party, which has already cost the lives of nine members of the B. P. E. W. H. Hutchinson of Corry, Pa., died last night, bringing the death toll to nine.

Nearly a score of other members of the home are still seriously ill, but are expected to recover. The men were poisoned from drinking sweet cider out of a barrel which had previously contained a solution of arsenic used in spraying trees.

MINERS WILL SEEK TO CURTAIL USE OF ELECTRIC POWER

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 12. (INS.)—Foremost among the Legislation to be sought by the five Pennsylvania districts of the United Mine Workers of America, meeting here jointly this morning, will be a bill to curtail the use of electricity in the mines. Its wide use is regarded as a "needless and dangerous" hazard of coal mining.

The Legislative program for the coming session is being considered by representatives from Districts 1, 2, 5, 7 and 9, of the mine workers union and includes in addition to the electric curtailment clause, several is-fare-and-safety of those employed in mines of vital importance to the well-being of the nation.

"The greatest use of electricity in place of steam has made it necessary to call a halt somewhere," said Thomas J. Kennedy, President of District 7, in declaring the electrical hazard as the most important subject to be dealt with at this time and suggesting Legislative remedies.

"We should not wait for some great calamity before getting after this danger and we feel that a new law must be drafted to prevent further development of the hazard," Mr. Kennedy added.

Bailey Held Winner By 14 Votes In Recount Over Anderson H. Walters

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 11.—After a session that opened last Thursday and continued until 10:30 tonight, during which a score of ballot boxes were opened and numerous corrections in the unofficial counts were made, the computation board for Cambria county tonight decided Warren Worth Bailey, Democrat, elected to Congress from the Twentieth district by a plurality of 14 votes over Anderson H. Walters, Republican. Walters was leading by two votes until the last box was opened, when South Fork Second Ward No. 2 gave Bailey 16 more votes than had been returned by the election board of the district and landed Bailey a winner.

WOMEN HOPE TO SEE "MA" FERGUSON AND "OUR NELL" ROSS RIDE HORSES IN THE NEXT INAUGURAL PROCESSION

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON—With an eye to the future, when they hope to see a woman riding down Pennsylvania avenue at the head of an inaugural parade, members of the National Woman's Party and the National League of Women Voters are hoping "Ma" Ferguson of Texas and "Our Nell" Ross of Wyoming will come to Washington to participate in the Coolidge inauguration on March 4.

Although both are Democrats, as visiting chief executives of sovereign states they would be accorded places in the inaugural parade.

And as the first women ever to be elected to such high office it is felt that their participation in the ceremonies would place the whole status of women as possible future contenders for the presidency in a new and more favorable light.

THE journalistic classic of the campaign came the day after the election.

It disclosed once and for all the real reason behind the Coolidge landslide.

And it revealed as the prize picker of presidents, by his own confession, none other than Colonel George Brinton Harvey, ex-Democratic ex-ambassador to Great Britain.

The Washington newspaper which Harvey now edits took no less than nine columns of type to tell how George, when calamity befell the party of his adoption, and the Democratic-Progressive assault seemed certain to sweep Coolidge from power, plunged his pen into the ink and saved the day with his battery of "Coolidge or Chaos."

ENGLAND READY TO ATTEND ANOTHER DISARMAMENT MEET

First Conference Cut
Down Competition In
Heavy Cruisers, Light
Cruisers Now Favored.

TORIES FAVORABLE

By GEORGE E. HOLMES

Washington, Nov. 12.—President Coolidge is only awaiting a favorable opportunity to take the initiative in calling another world arms conference—if, indeed, "feelings" in that direction have not already been put out by this government. It was ascertained today in Administration quarters.

The primary purpose of such a conference would be to accomplish what the Washington conference left undone; to wit, limit the production of aircraft for war purposes, limit the size and equipment of land forces and codify international law.

By DAVIS M. CHURCH
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
London, Nov. 12.—England was eagerly waiting today for an American invitation to another disarmament conference.

There is little doubt that such a move by President Coolidge would be welcomed by the Tory government as a ready escape from the proposed Geneva protocol.

Political circles were inclined to interpret the speech of Sir Auckland Geddes yesterday, as Great Britain's surrender to the United States of leadership in world humanitarian movements. It is apparent that Premier Stanley Baldwin is desirous of closest co-operation with the United States.

The Tories, on whose heavy victory Baldwin was swept back into the premiership, are inclined to oppose the Geneva pact. The Daily Telegraph publishes today an article by Lieut. Col. Reppington, who has just returned from a tour of Europe, stating his belief that the Geneva agreement is premature, that it would cause disintegration and constitute a "real danger to peace."

W. B. M. Pringle, defeated as Liberal candidate for parliament, declared there was the greatest need for another disarmament conference and added:

"The Washington conference stopped competition in dreadnaughts because of their doubtful efficacy. Now there's competition in light cruisers." The admiralty series that competition has sprung up in construction of this class of fighting craft.

PROMINENT METHODIST PASTOR DIES

Washington, Pa., Nov. 12. (INS.)—Rev. Calvin Henry Miller, pastor of the Jefferson Ave. Methodist Episcopal church here died at his home early today from a stroke suffered last night while preaching at the First Methodist Church at Cannonsburg.

Rev. Miller was 66 years old. He was prominent in the Pittsburgh conference and had held pastorates at Pittsburgh, Wilkinsburg, Boston, Pa., and South Brownsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hayes, of Curwensville and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Anderson of Grampian motored to the Cook forest on Sunday and took dinner at the inn. After viewing the sights there they drove on to Clarion where they took supper before returning home. All enjoyed the day to the fullest extent.

PONZI MAY ESCAPE PUNISHMENT OWING TO JURY DISAGREEMENT

Boston, Nov. 12. (INS.)—After deliberating 11 hours the jury that has heard the larceny charges against Charles Ponzi in Superior Court early today reported a disagreement. Ponzi fought his own case. Judge Bishop in his charge to the jury stressed the fact that the jury must find Ponzi misappropriated funds with intent to steal.

Howard B. Hartwick Is Now A Member Of Law Firm Of Arnold and Platt

The well known law firm of Miller and Hartwick, having been dissolved by the death of its senior member, W. Clark Miller, Mr. Howard B. Hartwick who has been a member of the firm for several years, today announces that he has entered the law firm of Arnold & Platt. The new firm will be known as Hartwick, Arnold & Platt.

Mr. Hartwick brings to the new firm a great many years of legal experience and a clientele of no mean proportions. Dating back to the law firm of Bell & Hartwick, prior to Judge Bell's elevation to the bench, through the years of Cole and Hartwick and finally Miller and Hartwick, the subject of this sketch has been in close touch with a goodly proportion of the legal business of Clearfield county during the last three decades.

For the present Mr. Hartwick may be found at either the Miller and Hartwick office in the County National Bank building or at the office of Arnold and Platt in the Keystone building.

After December 1st, John C. Arnold will devote all his time to the law business of the firm, he having resigned from the District Attorney's office. Mr. Platt is a brother-in-law of Mr. Arnold, a graduate of Montana University, in which state he practiced for a couple of years prior to coming here two years ago. A son of Rev. Dr. D. A. Platt of DuBois, he is no stranger to the community and since locating here has built up a fine practice.

Last June the firm of Arnold and Platt entered into a ten-year lease for a suite of four rooms in the new Progress Building on Locust street. These are now being made ready for occupancy and will be ready early in December, at which time the new firm of Hartwick, Arnold and Platt will occupy them.

Philipsburg Legion Men Put On Big Celebration Of Armistice Signing

The celebration of Armistice Day at Philipsburg yesterday under the auspices and direction of John Ashely Dennis, Jr., Post of the American Legion, was a huge and complete success in every way and the Post members and Philipsburg people generally have every reason to feel proud of their effort and the manner in which the people of this section of the State responded to the invitation to visit Philipsburg and participate in this celebration.

The celebration opened with a memorial service at the Rowland Theatre, at which one of the speakers was J. Mitchell Chase, of Clearfield, State Commander of the American Legion.

The main feature of the day was the parade of ex-service men and Philipsburg's civic organizations, which took place at 2 o'clock. It was a very creditable affair. The place of honor at the head of the line was given to John Lewis Shade Post of the American Legion and Clearfield's famous American Legion "Band." Clearfield had more than one hundred and fifty men in line and made a fine showing.

Following the parade the football game between the teams representing the Philipsburg and Clearfield High Schools was played at Scott Field before the largest crowd ever assembled on that field. The game ended Clearfield, 7; Philipsburg, 3; but the winners covered themselves with more dust than glory as the burgers played rings around our hopes. Clearfield was lucky at the start, scoring a touch down shortly after the game started and got the extra point on a Philipsburg penalty. It was indeed well that this was so, as these "burgers" took the bit in their teeth and punched holes in our line almost at will, the local's seeming unable to hold them until their goal line was almost reached. Then a desperate stand would result in Clearfield securing the ball, whereupon Wilson would kick the pigskin out of reach for the time being only to have it relentlessly brought back well into the danger zone right away again by Philipsburg's battering ram attack. Philipsburg's three points were gained on a pretty field goal.

The big program ended with a box

JOHN C. ARNOLD RESIGNS POSITION AS DISTRICT ATTORNEY; EDWARDS OF OSCEOLA NAMED AS HIS SUCCESSOR

New District Attorney

Able District Attorney
Will Devote All Time
to Practice of Law With
New 3 Member Firm.

IN EFFECT DEC. 1ST.

John C. Arnold, District Attorney of Clearfield County has tendered his resignation to Judge A. R. Chase, effective, December 1st, 1924 and his resignation has been accepted.

A. L. Edwards, Esq., of Osceola, has been appointed District Attorney by Judge A. R. Chase to serve out the balance of the term to which Arnold was elected.

Some two years ago Mr. Arnold formed a law partnership with E. G. Platt. The business of the new firm has grown rapidly during the past few months and it has long been apparent to Mr. Arnold that he must relinquish either the private practice or the District Attorneyship. Yesterday he tendered his resignation as District Attorney and on the same day Howard B. Hartwick, formerly of the firm of Miller and Hartwick, became a member of the firm which will hereafter be known as Hartwick, Arnold and Platt.

Mr. Arnold leaves the office of District Attorney with a record of accomplishments which is not exceeded anywhere in the state. An indefatigable worker he has attended to the business of being a public prosecutor with a zeal that has won the admiration of all good citizens. His ability in criminal court procedure attracted "law business" of another nature, and his civil court practice grew accordingly. It was to take care of this growing business that the firm of Arnold & Platt was organized. The people of the county lose a fearless, conscientious public officer.

The appointment of A. L. Edwards to the important post of District Attorney will meet with hearty approval. He is young, able, virile, ambitious with sufficient experience in the law to fit him for the duties of the office. His activities has brought him before the people in many ways and each time he has won the stamp of approval.

Following is the letter of resignation tendered Judge Chase by Mr. Arnold:

Hon. A. R. Chase,

Clearfield, Penna.

Dear Judge:—

I herewith tender you my resignation as District Attorney of Clearfield County, to be effective December 1st, 1924. You are familiar with my

AMERICA'S BUILDING BILL FOR 1924 IS EXPECTED TO EXCEED FOUR BILLIONS; ALMOST TWO BILLIONS OF IT IN HOMES

By ROBERT S. THORNBERG

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The American building bill for 1924 is expected to exceed the enormous sum of $4,500,000,000, and the construction of homes accounts for about 40 per cent of that total, according to figures made public today by the Federal Reserve Board and the Department of Commerce.

It has been a boom year in the building industry.

There still is a national housing problem, but the situation is the best it has been since the War, officials said.

Complete statistics for 1923, and the first ten months of 1924, show:

Total construction: 1923, $3,794,789,250; 1924, $4,247,064,000. Residential construction: 1923, $1,607,436,000; 1924, $1,902,218,125.

Road building, it was estimated by the Federal Reserve Board will aggregate about $1,400,000,000 this year.

"The volume of construction in 1924 has given direct employment to more than 2,500,000 persons and has exercised a sustaining effect on the building material industries," the Federal Reserve Board said. "Cement plants had a record production during the first nine months of 1924, shipments of oak flooring and structural steel have been sustained but there was some decrease in the demand for lumber and brick."

Reviewing the past few years, the Board said that "the expansion" in building operation dates from 1921, with sharp increases in 1922, and more moderate increases in 1923.

"Analysis of contract awards indicate that residential construction reached a peak in the spring of 1924," the Board said.

"Contracts for business, industrial and educational buildings and other public structures reached a peak in 1922, which has not been exceeded since."

Officials said that building materials have declined in price during the past season, following the rise accompanying the expansion of 1921, 1922 and 1923.

Analysis of contracts indicate that new construction has been maintained in relatively greater volume in the New York and San Francisco districts than in other sections of the country, according to the Federal Reserve summary.

"The increase in 1924, is due almost entirely to the large number of new projects in the New York district. In the Philadelphia, Cleveland, Minneapolis and Kansas City districts new building has been smaller in volume in 1924 and 1923."

Court Praises Work
In the Court of Common Pleas of Clearfield County, Pennsylvania.

Now, November 12th, 1924, the resignation of John C. Arnold, Esq., as District Attorney of Clearfield County, having been tendered the Court on this date and it appearing to the Court that the reasons assigned which prompts Mr. Arnold to resign are such that it would be unfair to Mr. Arnold not to accept his resignation, the said resignation is hereby accepted, to become effective as of December 1st, 1924, although in so doing it is recognized that Clearfield County is losing the services of a public officer who by his distinguished abilities and conscientious and fearless performance of the duties imposed by his office brought credit to Clearfield County and distinction to the incumbent. It may be said in accepting this resignation that Mr. Arnold has set a standard of efficiency and devotion to the arduous duties of the office of District Attorney of Clearfield County that has seldom, if ever, been equaled in the history of the County and will be with difficulty surpassed.

Further, the Court accepts this resignation with reluctance because the personal and official relation between the Court and District Attorney had always been of such a nature as to make it a pleasure to work and co-operate with the District Attorney's office.

Now, November 12th, 1924, the resignation of John C. Arnold, Esq., as District Attorney in and for Clearfield County is accepted, to become effective as of December 1st, 1924.

GRAIN CLOSING

Chicago, Nov. 12 (INS.)—Grains closed up in the latter hours of trading today but closed irregular. Wheat finished 1-4 at 1-1-4 lower; Corn 1-3-4 at 2-1-2 higher and oats 3-8 off to 1-4 higher.

The general drop in the market was considered a natural reaction from Monday's bulge and was not taken as an indication of any inherent weakness.

Trade in wheat was large throughout the session and prices fluctuated sharply as breaks brought buying and rises met with heavy profit taking. Lower cables acted as a bearish influence.

Corn met with heavy buying on its weak opening, sending prices to a premium over yesterday's close. There were bullish reports of export demand for the grain which held the market firm, despite realizing sales which came with the advance.

Aside from its value as fuel and its use in agriculture, peat has a score or more of uses, and its field is being constantly widened. A long list of chemicals are extracted from it. These include ammonia, methyl alcohol, acetone, acetic acid, pyridines, monophenols, a gasoline-like spirit, some neutral oils, paraffin wax, tar and dyes.

Composition of the Amethyst.
Scientists define the amethyst as a clear purple or bluish-violet variety of crystallized quartz. In hardness it ranks below the diamond in the proportion of nine to ten. Though it resists acids, it can be cut with a file and its color can be dulled by the application of heat. The stone apparently tries to hide from the eyes of man; for if it does not lie within the covers of a bed of granite, it will have as its cloister a hollow rock ball technically known as a geode.

The earth has shrunk about 570 miles in radius since its creation, according to a noted scientist. The shrinkage is due principally to pressure which causes the earth's molecules to rearrange themselves in less space.

A CROMAR Floored House Commands a Higher Rental or Selling Value

Of course, any good oak floor makes a home more desirable and valuable. But a CROMAR Oak Floor has a still greater attraction for the prospective owner—for two main reasons:

CROMAR has a finer, more lustrous finish, much like that of fine furniture—it appeals to the buyer's sense of beauty. And CROMAR's surface is wear-resisting to a truly remarkable degree.

Machine-finishing at the factory—perfectly uniform filling and varnishing under pressure—makes this more beautiful and more enduring finish possible.

In new houses or over old floors the owner profits further by the speed of laying. CROMAR comes to you ready for any carpenter to install (two can lay a room a day), and ready to use as soon as the last nail is driven. This eliminates the long drawn-out inconvenience attending the ordinary method, where six or seven mussy finishing operations are required after the floor is laid. On top of all its other advantages, the completed floor costs less when CROMAR is used.

There are lumber dealers in your city who will be glad to show you CROMAR Floors, and quote you prices. Write to us for their names; also booklets and sample.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Hopes of astronomers that the comet discovered in Germany in September by Prof. Finsler, of the Bonn University observatory, might prove a worthy successor of the brilliant comets of the last century seem not to be realized. While it was brighter than any such objects that have appeared recently, it is now moving near to the sun, and it is doubtful whether it will become bright enough to be seen with the naked eye at all.

Contrary to the opinion of many people, astronomers have no way of telling when a comet is coming until it has actually appeared. One of the most frequent questions of visitors to an observatory is, "When will we see another comet?" While there are a number of periodic comets which return to our neighborhood regularly, most of them are so faint as to be seen only with the aid of the telescope. Even those that can be seen with the naked eye usually present no especially striking features, but appear merely as faint patches of light.

Halley's comet, the most famous of these periodic visitors, was an exception, and could be easily seen in 1910; but even it was not really first class. The chief interest which it has to astronomers is that it was the first of the periodic comets to be discovered, and authentic records of its visits have been found as far back as the second century B. C. As it is believed that a comet, when near the sun, dissipates the material of which it is made, it is probable that Halley's comet was a much more striking object in earlier times. At present it is somewhere between the orbits of Uranus and Neptune, about 2,000,000 miles away, and is still receding. In 1950 it will have reached the end of its journey and will start back to the regions of the sun, arriving about April 29, 1986.

However, while these periodic comets are known, there are many others which appear without warning and which are apparently visitors to the solar system from outlying space and which, when their visit is completed, leave us for all time. Some of these have attained such a brilliancy as to be seen in full daylight. In 1811 a famous one appeared and at one time had a tail, which we believe in all cases to be composed of matter given off from the brighter head, more than 100,000,000 miles long.

Donati's comet appeared in 1858 and was one of the most brilliant ever recorded. Its tail reached a maximum length of about 54,000,000 miles when it subtended an angle of more than 30 degrees, as seen from the earth. Studies of its orbit led astronomers to believe that it was periodic, with a period of about 2000 years. Patience will be required to find out, but if it returns in 3858 these deductions will be verified.

Another brilliant comet appeared in 1861, known as Tebbutt's comet, after its discoverer, an Australian amateur. Then again in 1880 and 1882 two more magnificent examples of these objects appeared. The latter was especially interesting scientifically, because after it had passed closest to the sun it was found to have been subject to violent disruptive forces, as the nucleus of the head was broken up into smaller pieces. It was also the first comet to be photographed. Pictures of it were made by Sir David Gill, who was then in charge of the British Royal Observatory at the Cape of Good Hope.

Apparently these brilliant displays exhausted nature's supply of comets for a time, for since 1882 no other comet of great brilliancy has been seen. Probably the last century was especially fortunate but records show that on the average there are about three to every century, so we seem to have some right to expect another before long.

The substance of which these objects consist is apparently very rare, for distant stars have been observed through the heads of some and found to be scarcely diminished in brightness. Then again, they pass close to the various members of the solar system without appreciably affecting them, as they would if they had any considerable mass. On at least two occasions, once with Halley's comet in 1910, the earth has passed through a comet's tail, and noticeable effects were observed. Consequently, it is supposed that they are merely clouds of small particles and gases held together by some attractive force which is not entirely understood and which gives off light in the presence of the sun. Their light is not reflected sunlight, however, but may be a fluorescence excited by very short vibrations in the sunlight, in much the same way that certain substances glow under the X-rays.

LUTHERAN CHURCH

DR. D. N. MILLER'S LAST SERVICE

Will be held this evening. This week wonderful meetings have been enjoyed by increasing congregations. Rev. Dr. J. V. Adams assisted, his fine voice blending charmingly with Dr. Miller's in a duet. Last night Dr. Miller sang "Christ is All." And manifested improvement in congregational singing delighted him.

His afternoon talks have been especially helpful. This afternoon he met with a group of young people. Last night was "Family Night" in which the families were seated together. Among those at the altar service two families were represented in three generations.

He began with a helpful period of testifying, in which folks, other than Methodists, took part. He spoke of the several challenges—of service, of faith, of purposes and opportunity. It was a very direct and telling discourse. And the after meeting, centered in the altar, moved in easy spirit and response. These meetings are touching boys and girls.

This final service tonight will be marked with many features. The people will enjoy his last message and singing. Tonight has been set for the free-will offering the people of Trinity and the friends that have been attending these services will make to Dr. Miller for his work in this intensive drive. After the service the regular meeting of the Official Board. Let the people turn out in representative numbers.

INTERESTING CONFERENCE AND FRIENDS MEETING

Scared by Lion—No Lyn!

Sam never was so scared in all his life. Here he was, a modern Daniel in the lion's den, with old Nero right on top of him. But Nero for some reason or other, didn't think much of Sam as food. Evidently he had just had his dinner. Sam though surely put in a couple terrible minutes—they seemed like ages—until they opened the door and let him out. The picture was taken on the Guss Lion Farm at 12 Monte Carlo.

2236.1 Miles in 48 Hours!

A Startling Nation-Wide Demonstration of Motor Car Stamina, Speed and Economy

Here is an amazing exhibition of motor car stamina, speed and economy—the most magnificent ever given the American public.

For 48 continuous hours, scores of Cleveland Sixes roared over the highways of America—

—participating simultaneously in a National Non-Stop Economy Run—

—demonstrating clearly and conclusively that the 1925 Cleveland Six is destined to go into history as one of the epoch making cars!

The winner went 2236.1 miles at an average speed of 46.5 m. p. h., averaging 28.3 miles to the gallon.

The eight leading entries covered an average of 2117.3 miles in 48 hours at an average speed of 44.1 m. p. h. and averaged 25.5 miles to the gallon.

And all 86 participating cars showed a grand average mileage of 1565 for the 48 hours; a grand average speed of 32.6 m. p. h. and a grand average economy of 21.4 miles per gallon.

There have been non-stop runs before—but never one like this. Never one so comprehensive in its scope—so free from any suspicion of "stunt" performance—so full of meaty facts.

All entries were standard 1925 Cleveland Sixes—exactly the car you see on the street.

Professional racing drivers were barred. Salesmen, executives, mechanics, accountants, newspaper men and even stenographers handled the wheel in various parts of the country.

Every car carried at least one passenger. Every motor ran 48 hours without stopping. Every car was officially observed. Every result was sworn to.

The records were not made on banked and guarded speedways—but in every section of the country over every conceivable sort of road, under every conceivable driving condition.

Here the highways were concrete, level and dry. There the roads ran with rain and clinging mud clutched at the wheels.

Here the going was gravel, loose and treacherous. Here again it was some dusty trail that led uphill and down through six or seven states.

At times the roads were clear and speeds of 50-60-70 miles an hour could be maintained. At others, congested traffic called for sure, swift, certain brakes and a steering gear that responded with split-second speed.

The average man will rarely do two months driving in two days—will rarely want to travel some 2,000 miles at a speed of 46 miles an hour regardless of road or weather.

But the average man DOES want a car that can come through such a racking, gruelling grind with flying colors.

And the man who has a Cleveland Six knows that his car will do all that—and more!

He knows that the Mileage Motor gives him an undreamed-of combination of power, endurance, speed and flawless operation—

—that he can safely expect 20 miles to the gallon in normal driving—

—that he can count on long life and inexpensive maintenance—

—and that, no matter what model he chooses, it will have the same fine materials, the same inspired engineering, and the same scrupulous workmanship that made these brilliant results an actuality!

"ONE-SHOT" Lubrication System

The amazing feats here recorded were to a large extent made possible by the "One-Shot" Lubrication System.

This exclusive patented feature enabled all drivers to keep all chassis parts perfectly lubricated at all times.

Whether going 60 miles an hour or taking on gasoline, they simply stepped on the plunger—and oiled all 23 chassis parts. No squeaks. No punished bearings.

CHURCH AND COMMUNITY

"The church," we are told often nowadays, "has lost its power. The life has gone out of it. It is no longer a force in the community. Its day is past."

Consider, then, the situation in the thriving little city of Cape Girardeau, Mo., which according to a national directory has 10,000 people and numerous flour mills, foundries, factories making cigars, handles, boxes, threshing machines and staves, coopeage works, stone crushers, brick and lumber yards, cement works, and the usual outfit of stores, banks and other business institutions.

The stranger arriving there is greeted by a big sign opposite the handsome union station, reading: "Cape Girardeau—a city of churches, schools and substantial business institutions, where the home is paramount and where the church is the foundation of the community life."

That church item challenges attention. The inquiring visitor soon discovers that it is no mere idle boast or sentimental touch. The citizens have united in a movement to make the church really dominant in the life of their city.

They have a fund for that purpose, raised by public subscription. They set forth the claims of their religious institutions in three illuminated signboards and in systematic newspaper advertising the year 'round. Once a year the daily papers give a dinner at which pastors and representative laymen discuss plans for concerted church work. Budgets, attendance and miscellaneous activities are all increasing steadily. And there is harmony and genuine co-operation in that city, not to mention law, order, morals, education and civic progress.

And the denomination running all this? some inquirer may ask. Well, the chairman of the church promotion organization is a Protestant, the secretary is a Catholic, and the largest contributor is a Jew.

NEXT SUNDAY—RED CROSS SUNDAY

Once again, on the Sunday after Armistice Day, the Red Cross is mobilizing its volunteer workers for the Eighth Annual Roll Call. You will be asked by a Roll Call worker, who will visit your home on Sunday afternoon, to enlist in the cause of humanity and be a sharer in this noble work. "It is not merely a duty, but like our citizenship, it is a privilege to be a member of the one national organization, equipped and ready in an instant to answer the call of distressed humanity in every emergency." We know you will answer "Present" when your name is called on Sunday.

In previous years you have been asked merely for your dollar membership, but today for the first time since the war, the Clearfield Chapter is in dire need of money with which to carry on their philanthropic activities. The budget for the current twelve months, beginning in September, is $5,000. You are therefore asked for a contribution of more than a dollar, accordingly as you are able to contribute. Fifty cents of every dollar goes to national headquarters and but fifty cents of $5, $10, $20 or $25 subscriptions or larger, are required by the national organization. In this community the work centers round the Nursing Service with its Baby Clinics, which registered 144 babies this last month; its classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick; its bedside nursing for those who do not need an all time nurse, and this last month one hundred and ten nursing visits were made by our nurse.

And besides this work the Clearfield Chapter is still called upon to furnish aid to disabled ex-service men and their families.

These activities must be continued, but although willing workers stand ready to do their part, the financial problem is yours to decide. Think it over, make your decision before Sunday, and help the worker who calls upon you by subscribing promptly.

The work during the past year has been greatly curtailed because of lack of funds.

GETTING OUT FROM UNDER

LOCATE BICYCLE THIEVES

For some time the local police have been annoyed by complaints from every section of town regarding the disappearance of bicycles left standing along the street. During the past couple of months, four or five different bikes have disappeared and the police have been working hard trying to run down the bicycle stealers and succeeded yesterday in doing just that.

The stealing was finally fastened on a trio of boys in the Hyde section and Tuesday morning Jesse King, aged 17, and Frank Catherman, 15, of Carbon Mines, with "Mickey" McDonald of Hyde, were taken into custody charged with stealing the several missing bicycles. The lads admitted their guilt and were placed in the juvenile ward at the jail to await a hearing in juvenile court today or tomorrow.

Two of the stolen bicycles were found in the possession of Catherman and turned over to the police, while King claimed to have taken two he got over to Houtzdale or Madera and sold them.

The McDonald boy confessed to having stolen Billy Piper's new Columbia from where Billy left it in front of Dr. Gordon's residence on Locust street. He said he rode the machine up to Driftwood school house above Carbon Mines, where he hid it in the weeds and brush along the river bank. The next morning when he went to get it the bicycle was gone.

This story was corroborated by King, who said he stole the bicycle after McDonald had hidden it and rode it over to Madera, where he disposed of it for $4. His story is being investigated with a view to recovering the bicycle for the owner.

Wanted to Know.

A wealthy Irish farmer, intending to send his son to college wrote a letter to the "Head Master of Oxford University," in which he said: "Please say what are your terms for a year; and will it cost anything extra if my son learns to write a good hand and spell proper, as well as to row a boat?"—Weekly Telegraph.

Eleventh Commandment.

Answering a question as to the religious significance of the so-called Eleventh Commandment, a reader states that the answer is found in the book of John 13:34, in which Jesus said: "A new commandment, I give unto you, that you love one another."

Now is the Ideal Time to Build More
Paved Highways

There is not a single community in the United States that does not need a greater mileage of permanently paved roads.

16,000,000 motor vehicles are now using our highways for business and pleasure. They are packing the paved roads in already congested areas, as well as over-running regions until recently considered remote. And they are pounding to pieces all but permanent roads.

Even though a number of states have made good progress in building Concrete Roads, their present permanently improved mileage is entirely inadequate, as every motorist knows.

Meantime, while the building of permanent highways lags, the production of motor vehicles is increasing the present total at the rate of 4,000,000 a year!

Sooner or later this gap must be closed. Why wait?

Not in a long time have general conditions been so favorable for carrying on such public works as permanent highway building, thus assuring tax payers more for their money.

Now is the ideal time to extend both street and road programs!

PATTERNS

By FLORENCE DAVIES

A pattern, as every home dress-maker knows, is a great thing if it's the right one.

It's all easy enough, once you get the pattern. With that you can make a hundred dresses as easy as one. But with the wrong pattern, alas! the hundredth dress is as bad or worse than the first.

Now, the interesting thing about that, is that people have certain patterns in their minds as well as on paper. They carry around with them mental patterns, by which, willy nilly, like it or not, they cut out their cloth of life.

Some patterns are always a little skimpy, others have sweeping and generous line. There are people who always work with a mental pattern of doubt and apprehension. And there are other people who carry in their minds a pattern of success and happiness and achievement.

"Good golf," says a certain sport writer, "is all a matter of getting the right mental pattern."

"How does he do it?" I once asked an athletic coach who had trained a man to go over the high hurdles in glorious fashion.

"He does it all up here," the coach said, pointing to his forehead, "It's all back of the eyes."

"I see," I said, "a kind of mental pattern, a sense of form in the mind first, that translates itself to the muscles."

"Something like that," the man said.

"Ty Cobb, grand old man of baseball is said to have read every life of Napoleon ever written. He steeps his mind in the pattern of great general-ship. It's one way to pound the idea of leadership into his mind.

Even an artist, says a great art teacher, paints more with his mind than with his hands and eyes. He thinks the problem through first, and sets down the mental pattern.

Isn't it just possible, then, that many of us waste a good deal of energy by trying to work without a clear cut pattern, or by using the wrong one?

There's a reason back of some of the business clubs of men and women whose members are chosen from among only the most successful representatives of the various professions and varieties of business. These people may not have said it, in so many words, but in reality they find it worth while to be together in order to stamp the pattern of success on their minds.

Perhaps the thing you're trying to do is not spectacular. Perhaps it has nothing to do with big business or artistic triumph, or the career of Napoleon. Perhaps it's just limited by the four walls of a home. But whatever it is, you'll do it better if you get the right mental pattern first and then keep cutting by that pattern over and over again.

And the way to get the right mental pattern is to keep seeking those things which stand for the right mental pattern, and steep your mind in them. The rest will come as easily as the hurdler got into form, once he got the picture of that form firmly fixed in his mind.

Too many of us fight with our hands first and then with our heads to get us out of the bungle our hands have made. Why not try it the other way? Successful living, as well as golf, is all a question of the mind in the pattern of great general-

GRANNY SQUIRREL'S SUPPLY

"It is no use wishing," said Mrs. Young Squirrel. "We won't find any nuts to store away this year. We will be lucky if we get enough to eat before the snow comes. I never knew such a season: no nuts at all and a cold, hard winter it will be for us. I know."

Granny Squirrel, who had lived a long time and learned many things, heard Mrs. Young Squirrel's grumblings. "Why don't you know the good side instead of the bad?" she said. "There you have been making the bad as important as you could and never said a word for good. Isn't it?"

"Booh!" said Mrs. Young Squirrel. "As easy to think good things as bad ones, my dear."

"Booh!" said Mrs. Young Squirrel. "What good will thinking do? I know there are few nuts to be found and we are going hungry this winter. You see if we don't."

"I shall not think of any such thing as lack of supply," said Granny Squirrel. "What I shall keep in my mind is that it is right for me to have enough and that the right always prevails, and if I can keep knowing the good part hard enough and in the right way I shall not suffer this winter. I am sure of that."

"You can't get what you cannot see," said Mrs. Young Squirrel, "and I do not see any nuts. So how you are to get them I don't understand."

"You want to think back, my dear," said Granny. "If you didn't you would be thinking right back things right in the end. Of course, thinking about a big supply of nuts won't make things right."

"What else do we need, I should like you to tell me," said Mrs. Young Squirrel.

"Good thoughts, a supply of kind thoughts toward your neighbor, for one thing," replied Granny. "When Mrs. Red Squirrel comes chattering in your tree and tries to make you angry so you will chase her, just think of her as a nice, kind, good creature and put out of your thoughts the quarrelsome neighbor you have always seen in her."

"Granny Squirrel is crazy," Mrs. Young Squirrel told her neighbor, Mrs. Gray. "She sits there talking about having all she needs when the ground is about bare of nuts, and seeing somebody who isn't anywhere around. Poor old granny, she will starve this winter."

But Granny didn't starve. Instead, she had a good supply of nuts, and one day, when Mrs. Young Squirrel, who was looking rather thin and far from well fed, happened to call, Granny Squirrel treated her to nut cakes and tea.

"Where did you get nuts for cake this time for the winter?" asked Mrs. Young Squirrel. "You could not have stored any, because there were none. It was a dreadful season for us poor creatures."

"No, my dear, I did not store any nuts," answered Granny. "But I have had plenty for some kind person put nuts and bits of fat and other dainties every day on a shelf near my home and I have all I can use and to spare."

"You see, it is as I told you. If we will know the good is here we shall never know the lack of it. Have another nut cake and some more tea, my dear."

Mrs. Young Squirrel nibbled her cakes and wondered if, after all, Granny was as crazy as she had thought her to be, for she looked not only plump, but happy as well.

"What's in a Name?"

By MILDRED MARSHALL

Facts about your name in history; meanings whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day, lucky jewel.

EMMA

FEW feminine names have a simpler origin than Emma. It is one of the many names derived from Teutonic forefathers. Tradition assigns its origin to theblings of a child since Emma was nurse in Germany and name is translated housekeeper in Spain. Emma was quickly transposed to Emma, probably from a latent sense of euphony.

The Karling daughters of Teutonic fame were first to use the name. Later a daughter of Charlemagne was so called. A romantic story surrounds her, to the effect that she is said to have carried her lover, Eginhard the Chronicler, on her back over the snow that his footprints might not betray his visit.

Emma was popular in France, where it was the name of the sister of Hugh Capet, who married Richard the Fearless of Normandy. Her grandmother was first the wife of Ethelred the Unready, then of Knut. It was in this way that Emma became much in vogue in Saxony. There were also Emmas among the daughters of the Norman Duke de-Baladon, who came over with William the Conqueror.

Prior to his beautiful ballad of the "Nut Brown Maid," which was supposed to be the history of the shepherd, Lord Clifford, called his poem "Emma and Emma," which fact brought Emma romantic fame and spread the popularity of her name. Emmeline, curiously enough, bears no relationship to Emma, but comes rather from Angeline, the progenitor of Amy.

The bloodstone is Emma's talismanic gem. It has medicinal qualities and was much used by the ancients to stop hemorrhages. It is said to preserve the faculties and the bodily health of its wearer, bring consideration and respect, and guard her from deception, especially of lovers. Tuesday is Emma's lucky day and 5 her lucky number.

GIVING HIM A TIP.

Jack (at 11:30 P. M.)—Can I get you to say "yes?"

Maad (stiffly, always)—That depends on your question. Try asking me if I am sleepy.

Catty.

Patience—I don't look like myself at all in this new hat.

Patricia—No, my dear. I think you made a very wise selection.

The Why of Superstitions

By H. IRDING KING

PIERCED COINS

IF YOU should find a pierced coin, or receive one in change, be sure and keep it. It will bring you good luck. This is a very common superstition everywhere and its causes are obvious. A pierced coin suggests an amulet—has evidently been worn as one, the hole on it having been made to pass a string or ribbon through that it might be suspended about the neck.

And an amulet protects against the evil eye, witches, evil spirits and malign influences generally as everybody knows. Therefore keep the pierced coin and you keep the advantages of its protective virtues. Or the coin may have been pierced and worn by some one simply as a "lucky piece." A lucky piece is a little different from an amulet; an amulet wards off bad luck, a lucky piece brings good luck. The pierced coin, then, is evidently an amulet or a lucky piece and both are good things to have about one.

In the power of the lucky piece we see the operation of that primitive idea, contagious magic. The lucky piece has, possessed of its beneficent qualities, imitations, and therefore from it we can "catch" the contagion of good luck. The pierced coin, superstition tells us, its counterparts among all savage peoples today and its ancestry reaches back to primitive times.

A LINE O' CHEER

THE CHOICE

DAME FORTUNE came to me one day And in her pleasant smile Offered for choice two kinds of wealth.

"I'll give you 'Gold'—quoth she, 'or 'Health'—

"'Twas Health I chose, because, you see, The pleasing thought occurred to me

"I have health all other perils I can go out and win myself—

"Gold, silver, jewels, all are mine I Health with Labor I earn."

And choosing thus it will befall That 'stead of one I'll have 'em all."

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Qualified

"They say a right man's son usually can't do anything."

"Nonsense. It is difficult to find one who isn't a good chauffeur."

Versatile

Helen Brown, 21, of Minneapolis, a music student at the University of Minnesota, was born with only one hand. But she plays all the old masters on the piano, the organ, the pipe organ, rides a horse like a breeze, plays tennis and volleyball expertly, drives her father's car to the satisfaction of any traffic officer, swims like a streak and recently won a sewing contest.

Prima Donna

Only 16 years old, Kathleen Kersting of Wichita in Kansas first prima donna. She will make her operatic debut in "Margarite" in Rome next March. In her Rome appearance the American girl will wear the same costume which Marie Calve wore when she made her debut many years ago.

TYPES TO SUIT EVERYONE

IN VERSATILE WINTER HATS

HERE are five winter hats, each one beautiful and interesting, but each entirely different from all the others. If the group contained fifty hats it is likely that the same things could be said of them for there was never so much diversity in headwear as there is now. Or perhaps it seems that way since the reaction came and we turned our backs on the "small cloche" so universally worn.

The group starts off with one of those soft-of-the-face velvet shapes with a wavy, wavy, wavy at the front and caught to the crown with a ribbon and fabric elegant at the right side. This is one of many that keep to the right in placing their trimmings. When winter comes we shall see many soft-of-the-face hats, some of them covered with the most brilliant embroideries and gold braids. Others go further and are set with mock jewels, and queens are not more gorgeously crowned than their wearers will be.

"Spain" is written on the hat at the right quite as plainly as if the great seal of state had been affixed to it. It is one of many popular sailor models with a row of sequins about the brim edge and a chin strap of more ribbon which appears to slip through the brim, for it crosses the crown. Many a youthful head adds to its attractions when this picturesque hat adorns it. The model is in black.

A beautiful velvet hat in which a light facing peevishly the dark covering is shown in the center of the group. It is a forerunner of the mode in flower-trimmed hats for midwinter. Its crown is high and made higher by two huge silk and velvet roses posed at the left side. Many color combinations are possible in hats of this kind and they look best on the dignified heads of mature types. At the lower right a chic velvet hat, with an eccentric brim line is shown—it has a dark astrachan across the back—likely to be in flame color and a gold cord about the crown. It will find its proper resting place above an animated face. Felt and velvet have combined in the familiar shape that finishes the group and it is trimmed with one of those white-tipped black pompons that have so much style.

Cooperative Work Shows Rapid Growth

Recently Organized Associations Do Big Business.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
The Southern states show greater cooperative marketing growth since 1915 than other states where cooperative marketing is of longer standing, according to a tabulation made by the United States Department of Agriculture. The large volume of business handled by the recently organized tobacco, cotton and rice associations is given as the reason for the change.
Cooperative organizations in the seven West North Central states handled 45 per cent of the total business transacted in all states in 1915, whereas co-operatives in these states now handle 30 per cent of the total business. Organizations in the three Pacific states in 1915 did 24 per cent of the total business, as compared with 19 per cent in 1923. Co-operatives in the East North Central group did 14 per cent of the total in 1915, as compared with 15 per cent in 1923, and co-operatives in the Middle Atlantic group did 9 per cent in 1915 as compared with 12 1/2 per cent in 1923.
The greatest growth is shown in the East South Central group, where co-operatives in 1915 did little better than 1 per cent of the total business, as compared with 9 per cent in 1923. The figures for the South Atlantic states show a jump from 2 per cent to 7 per cent, and the West South Central states an increase from 1 per cent in 1915 to 4 per cent in 1923. A small increase is shown in the New England states and a slight decrease in the Mountain states.

PRESBYTERIAN AND WEST SIDE METHODIST BOWLERS LEAD IN TOURNAMENT

The Presbyterian team, being gold, was the case. Clearfield's strengthened by three additional bowlers who were not present at the last contest which they lost to the strong East End Methodist team. The West Side Methodists found themselves in the second round of their contest with the East End Methodist bowlers last night and succeeded in taking the lead with the Presbyterians and this tie will be played off next Monday night, which will be one of the most exciting bowling contests of the season. West Side Methodists vs. Presbyterians, Captain Ennis vs. Captain Wright.

Hark, Hark, the Lark!

A little daughter of the suns, on her first day in the country, saw a lark motionless, high in air, pouring forth its lovely music. She listened a moment, then she ran to the matron. "Oh, Miss May," she said, "there's a sparrow up there, and he can't get up and he can't get down, and he ain't doing a thing but holler about it."

Electricity on Battleship.

Chemistry and physics contribute in a great measure to the complete battleship, the branch of optics alone having given many advantages. In the matter of electrical science the scope to which it is used on a battleship may be appreciated by the fact that the average large warship can generate 150,000 horse power of electrical energy, which is equivalent to the amount used for a fairly large city.

Good Building Insulation.

Corrugated cardboard of the kind used for packing cases can be used for insulating buildings against the cold, such insulation being particularly desirable in barns and poultry houses. The boxes are opened along the joints and flattened out, the material being applied with short nails and tin washers, such as used for the application of roofing paper.

Salt Tells of Storm's Approach.

Salt is extremely sensitive to air changes. A very cheap, pretty and effective barometer can be made with a bunch of colored ribbons or a spray of flowers. Soak your ribbons or flowers in strong salt water, dry them on the hat stand in the hall. Your ribbons or flowers will be dry and crisp when weather prospects are good. But when your barometer becomes moist and limp you will soon need your umbrella.

SEEN FROM THE SIDELINES

It was a Clearfield win sure, but as has been said, "all that glitters isn't gold," was the case. Clearfield's score came pretty luckily on a fumble, but isn't following the ball a good instinct.

Bratton, whose learned toe saved a shutout for the Burgers, deserves a lot of credit. The little quarter stepped back, took his stance, received the pass from center and booted the ball. The kick was peculiar as it left his foot from the instep instead of the toe, but at any rate it was a wonderful kick.

"Stony" Rowles, the Red and Black 150-pound guard, was a hard egg for the Blue team. "Stony" missed several nice tackles but he made it up in the various other types of play.

DuBois had a "size eight" delegation at the game, consisting mostly of DuBois High grid men, while "Secons" Spackman was there to get a little dope for the Courier.

Taking scores as a comparison, the local boys are about to get a stiff fight when they meet DuBois. DuBois won 44-27 from Philipsburg and Clearfield was lucky to win 7-3.

Billy Betts got away once for 40 yards thru the line but he was called back because his shoestrings fell out of bounds or some other thing that we nor the referee didn't know anything about. But anyhow the play was brought back.

Clearfield's players who saw the Tech-State game sure used it to an advantage. They learned to follow the ball. But the line didn't learn a thing it seems, and they were glimmering one of the best lines in the country.

The crowd was about as hard to handle as a greased pig. The only way they could hold them was by dusting them and threatening, but there was about as much order as at a political convention.

Now here it is straight. Every one get a horse shoe, and a rabbit foot and with no fingers crossed chase all the black cats and mirrors out of town, because DuBois comes here the 22nd and Curwensville the 29th. And only football will beat these teams, but every little bit of luck counts.

Between halves a world war was fought but soldiers of the late war won it. DuBois failed to show up so Clearfield and Philipsburg did the stunt. The pulling was about even till the rope broke, then both sides went down for the count.

Longfellow's Favorite Gem.
The favorite gem of the American poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was an amethyst of the deepest shade of purple, which, upon being exhibited in artificial light, glowed like a ruby. St. Valentine, were a ring, so it is said, with Cupid engraved upon the amethyst set. Very appropriate, indeed. Perhaps both St. Valentine and the poet were partial to the gem because each was born in the month of February, for which it is the birthstone.

Strange Requests.
Strange and sometimes pathetic are the requests that deceased people occasionally leave behind them. Only the other day a farmer was borne to his grave on a farm cart drawn by his favorite pony, London. Answers states. Some time ago a lady, who was a brilliant pianist, asked in her will that she might be buried in her piano instead of a coffin. Another lady was buried at sea, by her special wish, and the coffin borne thence in a fishing boat by two fishermen who had known her since her childhood.

WONDERFUL GAME AT PHILIPSBURG A C. H. S. VICTORY

Philipsburg High was decisively eliminated from the two-county championship race when the Kel team lost to Clearfield High 7-3 at Scott Field yesterday. Up to this defeat the burgers had a good chance to win the title, but it was upset when Capt. Bob Wilson scored Clearfield's touchdown. Philipsburg previously licked Curwensville and gave DuBois the scare of their lives until the last minutes, but now they are out of the race entirely, thru the work of the Red team.

One of the largest grid crowds that ever gathered there was on Scott Field and they got a real treat. The stands were well filled while the sidelines were solid and from time to time the sidelines were forced in about 10 or 15 yards. At times the crowd would edge onto the playing field, while several even went out and listened to the arguments, with an occasional spectator going out and telling the home team how to play it. The crowd was about evenly distributed between Clearfield and Philipsburg, while DuBois and Curwensville's curiosity got the best of them and they had a lot of "dopesters" busy on Clearfield.

The play bristled with fight and hard playing. Both teams fought stubbornly for every inch when inches counted, but when the goal was a little more distant Clearfield did not show so much fight as the Blue and White team.

The game was about even, both teams doing their share of gaining and all around good playing. Clearfield's backs got their yardage when it was needed, while when the enemy needed it the Red and Black line held. Twice Philipsburg had the ball inside the Clearfield 10-yard line, only to have the Wilson team tighten and avert a score. While Clearfield's drive for a touchdown could not be stopped the first time, the second and third possible scores were squelched, and attempted field goals were wild.

The local team played straight football and uncovered not one "fluke" play, for possible snipers. Mitchellree scented an all-out element in the crowd from teams yet to play and held his plays to end runs and line bucks, with a pass to break the monotony.

Abraham and Hellewell were the big figures in the Blue's ground gaining, and both these big boys played well, Abraham hitting the line nicely while Hellewell's end running and line bucking helped a lot. Bratton, whose educated toe saved a shut-out was also in it a lot. The little quarter got off some very nice kicks. The burg line also deserves mention as they displayed a good type of football and fought a heavier line with success.

For Clearfield Mohny, Johnston, Rowles and Wilson looked exceptionally good. The two ends, Mohny and Johnston, were down under every punt and held the would-be returner without gain. Both boys played their customary good game in every other way, also. Rowles at guard was about as valuable 150-pound lineman as there was on the field. It was thru his playing that Wilson scampered to score Clearfield's touchdown. "Mitch" called for an end run around Johnston's end. The play started and Rowles wheeled from his position on the opposite side of the line and swung in with the interference. The play went all right until the 10-yard line was reached, then Capt. Fryberger attempted to stop Capt. Wilson. Rowles hit the enemy leader amidships and Wilson continued to his six-point destination.

CURWENSVILLE DEFEATS JUNIATA

SCHOOL DAYS

In a rather fast game Curwensville's remodeled team was able to defeat the strong Juniata team by a score which does not tell the story of the cleanness of the play. During the first three quarters of the game the final outcome was a matter resting entirely in the sympathies of the spectator. In the last quarter however the Curwensville team proved that since the DuBois game something had developed staying qualities, lack of which was the great weakness of the team during all the early part of the season. Coach Black, with the assistance of Doug Dunsmore has been working for two weeks to develop a team which would compare in potential strength with the team which first took the field at DuBois. The Curwensville fans were much pleased to see Kephart back at center and also to see Bill Starr showing a return of the form of last year and the year before. The work of Starr in the backfield was the sensation of the last three quarters. Red Shaffer at fullback was the subject of much comment on account of the manner in which he played safety man and for his open field running. Wright at last found the place which was just made for him at left end. His catch of a long forward pass just before the end of the first half gave Curwensville its only touchdown of the first two periods. Brunetti and Maurey both played the game that Curwensville has come to expect of them and were the cause of many of Curwensville's gains. In the line Clark and Nepper were towers of strength on the defensive and could always be counted on to open holes in Juniata's defense. Joe Kelly playing his first game at end gave promise of making with Wright a pair of the best ends that Curwensville has produced with the possible exception of Edwards.

The first half was an evenly matched struggle with first one side and then the other gaining. Near the end of the half a long pass, Maurey to Wright, left Wright with an open field which he used to good advantage scoring the first six points. With the opening of the second half some of the pep of Coach Black was evident and from that time Curwensville was on the top of the heap, scoring three touchdowns. In their four touchdowns Curwensville managed to make the extra point only once. Both sides made a touchdown which was not allowed by the referee.

The next game on Curwensville's schedule is Portage. This game is arranged to be played at Curwensville next Saturday, November 15th. The Portage team has a formidable record so far this year. They have played seven games, winning all of them and only having their goal line crossed once. From this it appears that Curwensville will have their hands full to keep them from making it eight straight.

SOME MORE CLEANING UP TO DO!

The "Red Wraith" Is on His Way

Here he is—Red Grange, the gridiron meteor, on one of his remarkable runs against the Chicago Maroons. Chicago surprised the football world by defeating Grange, scored three touchdowns. The picture gives you an idea of the winning Illinois, and without Grange the Illinois would have been defeated. Grange saved three touchdowns. He has a trick of offering his legs to a tackler and then suddenly taking them away. Look and you'll see how he does it.

Capt. Wilson also proved himself a peerless player. Bob gained a major portion of Clearfield's yardage aside from making some pretty tackles.

Clearfield's signals were neither mystifying nor entangling to their opponents. Every Red and Black play was covered and from the minute Mitch's figure discourse was bawled out Philipsburg had the man and play covered.

Capt. Wilson won the toss and elected to kick toward the Clearfield stands. Don Thurston kicked to Abraham but the latter was cut down with little return. The first period found Clearfield inside the enemy's 50-yard line. The game ended with Wilson scoring after Johnston had recovered a Philipsburg fumble on the 20-yard line. The point was given Clearfield when a Blue lineman was detected offside. The game continued back and forth the rest of the half, being broken by Bratton's pretty kick from the 35-yard line. From this juncture it was first Clearfield then Philipsburg with the ball, with no sensational "goings on."

In a mixup at close quarters about the middle of the first round the Philadelphian landed a short arm punch flush on the jaw and he sat down hard on the canvas floor. After he got up he got an awful lacing and appeared to go asleep on his feet and remained that way through the two or three rounds which followed. He would lash out with a roundabout from one of the longest arms we ever saw. In captivity and when the leather covered ten pound ham on the end of it landed on the Frenchman he necessarily wilted. Both men appeared to be "out" on their feet a couple of times but the bell saved them from a double knockout and about the end of the fourth round, after Martin had given up a handful of his biceps a series of sledge hammer jolts from Martin's hams ended the agony by rendering the Frenchman hors du combat, as his country men would have it. Martin found out he had won some ten minutes later.

Dante Arrives in City For First Showing Of Mystery This Evening

Dante, the noted European magician, will appear under the management of Thurston, famous American conjurer, at the Driggs Theatre for 2 days beginning tonight.

Thurston succeeded Keller, eight years ago and in that time he conclusively demonstrated that he is the greatest magician America has produced. The demand for his appearances has been so great that he has finally arranged with Dante to visit this country. In addition to his wonderful European illusions, he will present the best of the Thurston Keller mysteries, which insure a combination which will remain absolutely unexcelled in the annals of magical production.

Dante is not only a magician of incomparable skill, but also a trans-formist, illusionist and maker of miracles—doing the seemingly impossible and making the unreal common place. As a sleight of hand artist he stands unrivalled.

In his performances he requires the services of twenty-three trained assistants, every one of whom is an expert in that particular phase of work which he is required to do. Dante has spent one whole year preparing the production which he is bringing to America. Every moment that he could possibly spare from him in his pastime studio and workshop in the outskirts of Copenhagen directing the large force of workmen and artists who are constantly employed there—building and devising new and novel magical effects and mysteries. Some of his effects are really stupendous from the standpoint of amount of labor required to set up the properties and scenery by means of which they are produced. Reserved seats now on sale.

Power From House Faucet.
The power supplied by the water from a house faucet is sufficient to drive a small dynamo by means of a new motor of about one-half horse power, recently developed by a French scientist and inventor. In his city home the motor installation is permanently attached to the tap, and power is generated every time water is drawn for any of the myriad household purposes. Surplus energy, generated during the day is stored in a battery and later drawn upon to supply 20 incandescent bulbs of 15 to 20 candle power, says Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Of Much Importance to Keep Outside Gave Dry

The outside cave or storage cellar should be well ventilated and well drained and this is a problem in many kinds of soil. Keeping a pit well drained by using a rather high point of land and with the walls of the entrance several inches above ground there will be no danger of water from the outside.

Seepage can be prevented by digging a large pocket in the floor before the concrete is laid. This is filled with gravel or sand and the concrete then sloped toward this pocket from all sides where it terminates in a drain. Building tile will generally give a dry floor if they are laid flat and end to end. If desired they can be covered with two inches of concrete or cinders.

Scotts Macadam.
Macadam roads are so common in America that national pride may well lead us to look upon them as a domestic product. But John Macadam was a Scot, resident in Ayrshire, where he made his first experiments about 1814. Five years later the first public roads were laid with the pavement, and a grant of £50,000. In 1827, after the new pavement had been thoroughly tested, Macadam was made surveyor general of all metropolitan roads in and about London, and the use of his method became general throughout the United Kingdom.

Avoid Airing Troubles.
This I always religiously observed, as a rule, never to chide before company nor to prattle abroad of misadventures at home. What passes between two people is much easier made up than when once it has taken air.—Erasmus.

Joan of Arc's Betrayal.
Joan of Arc, the French national heroine, may be said to have been betrayed by her own people, since it was the Duke of Burgundy who captured her at Compiègne and sold her to the English.

Have You a Bad Back?

Then the Advice of This Clearfield Resident Will Interest You.

Does your back ache night and day? Hinder work, destroy your rest? When you stoop, lift or bend? Then likely your kidneys are weak. More troubles may soon appear. Headaches, dizziness, nervousness, Or uric acid and its ills. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Read this Clearfield testimony: Geo. J. Kragle, painter, 306 E. Locust St. says: "A cold settled in my kidneys and backache gave me little rest. The most troublesome times were when I stood in one position too long or if I stooped. The sharp kink took me in the small of my back and it was hard to straighten. Sometimes, a lame, sore back bothered me mornings. My kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Pills from Aughenbaugh's Drug Store drove away the backache and regulated my kidneys." 60c at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Collar Adds Chic, Charm

THIS tendency to wear smart collar effects with evening gowns is illustrated in this photograph. It adds chic and charm to this interesting cut gown of green crepe with the corsage of flowers in shades of deep red and gold. It fastens on one side with a scarf hanging down the back, and is fastened with a smart bouquet of flowers like those on the corsage.

CHRYSLER

Where Chrysler Sales Are Coming From

There has been much discussion, of course, concerning the unprecedented sales of the Chrysler. No car of quality has ever made such a success in the same space of time. Naturally there has been a great deal of speculation as to where these sales came from. That question can be quickly answered. The Chrysler has made a market which is all its own. Its outstanding qualities are universal in their appeal. Everyone delights in the Chrysler combination of dashing appearance and dashing performance. Everyone recognizes at once how unnecessarily high and unwieldy other cars seem when you look up at them from the comfortable seats of a Chrysler. The Chrysler has invaded the highest priced division in every city in the country. Why not? The contrast in conservation of space, weight and height, the delightful ease of handling and parking, the cradling comfort both of riding and driving—these things are too pronounced to be overlooked by one who has driven more cumbersome cars. So the Chrysler invades the division of highest price—and makes equally striking appeal to the division below it and the next and the next. There isn't an unnecessary ounce or inch in the Chrysler—nothing but a thoroughbred utility throughout which has revived public conception of what constitutes sound motor car investment. The Chrysler market is a market made up of people who instantly discard the past when the present offers them something better. And that means, of course—all America.

The Touring Car, $1395; The Phaeton, $1495; The Roadster, $1625; The Sedan, $1825; The Brougham, $1895; The Imperial, $2085; The Crown Imperial, $2195; The Royal Coupe, $1895. All prices f.o.b. Detroit subject to current government tax.
